INDIAN RED FLAG AGAINST N-ATTACK WORKED: U.S.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken on Friday credited India and China with possibly stalling a potential use of nuclear weapons by Russia in Ukraine.

In an interview to The Atlantic on the first anniversary of the Ukraine war, Blinken said both nations had "a little bit more influence with Russia these days". He indicated that India and China may have told Russian President Vladmir Putin directly that they opposed any use of nuclear weapons on Ukranian soil.

"There was language coming out of Moscow that suggested that he would look to the use of tactical nuclear weapons. But we urged, I think successfully, that other countries might have a little bit more influence with Russia — like India and China — to engage him directly about their absolute opposition to any use of nuclear weapons," he said.

"And we know that they conveyed those messages, and I think that had some effect. Something we always have to look at, but again, the track record to date suggests that the escalation that some feared has, at least to now, not happened," Blinken said.

He added that India was on a trajectory away from alignment with Russia and moving into partnership with the US and other countries.

Blinken confirmed he will visit India for a meeting of the G20 foreign ministers in March. Chinese Foreign Minister Qin Gang and his Russian counter part Sergey Lavrov will participate in the meeting.

Delhi abstains in UNGA on Ukraine resolution

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA on Friday abstained in the UN General Assembly on a resolution that underscored the need to reach a comprehensive, just and lasting peace in Ukraine in line with the principles of the UN Charter.

"We will always call for dialogue and diplomacy as the only viable way out. While we take note of the stated objective of the resolution, given its inherent limitations in reaching our desired goal of securing lasting peace, we are constrained to abstain," said India's permanent representative to the United Nations, Ruchira Kamboj.

The draft resolution got 141 votes in its favour, seven against it, while 32, including India, abstained.

"The conflict has resulted in the loss of countless lives and misery, particularly for women, children and the elderly... Reports of attacks on civilians and civilian infrastructure are also deeply worrying," said Kamboj.

However, is the global community anywhere near a possible solution acceptable to both sides, she wondered. "Can any process that does not involve either of the two sides, ever lead to a credible and meaningful solution? Has the UN system, and particularly its principal organ, the UN Security Council, based on a 1945-world construct, not been rendered ineffective to address contemporary challenges to global peace and security?' Kamboj caustically observed.

Nomination alone, no CWC poll

Steering Committee meet authorises Kharge to pick names for top decision-making body

PREETHA NAIR @ Nava Raipur

ENDING days of speculation, the Congress leadership on Friday decided not to conduct elections to the Congress Working Committee (CWC) and instead authorise party president Mallikarjun Kharge to nominate all members of the highest decision-making body.

The decision was taken by the Steering Committee because of the prevailing political situation in the country and the Congress role as the main opposition party. Implicit in it was the admission that CWC elections could create bad blood and shift the focus away from the big picture of charting poll strategies and alliances.

Sources told this newspaper that leaders like Digvijaya Singh, Ajay Maken and Abhishek Manu Singhvi strongly pitched for election to the CWC at the Steering Committee meeting, while several senior leaders argued against it citing the upcoming state and Lok Sabha elections. Though senior leader P Chidambaram openly demanded CWC elections last week, he did not speak at the meeting, said another leader.

Significantly, all three members of the Gandhi family—Sonia, Rahul, and Priyanka stayed away from the Steering Committee meeting, which was held in the morning. Rahul and Sonia arrived in the afternoon at the Nava Raipur venue of the plenary session.

Briefing the media, AICC general secretary Jairam Ramesh said the decision to not hold polls to the CWC was taken unanimously. "We had a two-and-a-half hour discussion on the issue. The overwhelming view was that keeping in view the political challenges facing the country and the Congress party in the capacity as the main opposition, almost all 45 members present at the meeting unanimously decided to authorise the Congress president to nominate members to the CWC," he said.

As first reported by this newspaper on February 17, the party decided to give permanent CWC seats to former Congress presidents (Sonia and Rahul) and its ex-prime ministers (Manmohan Singh).

While the plenary session is expected to come up with a political resolution on opposition unity with Congress as the pivot, a senior leader who participated in the draft committee meeting told this paper that he was disappointed by the six resolutions lined up for adoption. "I was looking forward to specific inputs on opposition alliances but the resolutions were wishy-washy. I was hoping that the party will take the lead in the alliance as they said earlier. But the resolution doesn't speak of anything," he said.

The party will also amend its 16 articles and 32 rules oin its constitution. "The most important one is to provide 50% quota to SC, ST, OBC, minorities, women, and youth below the age of 50 years in the CWC," Ramesh said.

Woman hit with sickle for feeding strays

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

FEEDING stray dogs proved costly for a woman techie as she was attacked with a sickle by two men at Jigani in Anekal taluk last Sunday evening. The victim, Meera Tiwari (54), a resident of Varun Apartments in Sai Brindavan Layout, was taken to Nimhans where she received treatment.

"There are 17 strays dogs inside the layout and 16 strays outside the layout. I feed them from my own expenses. This has become an issue for some people residing in the locality. On the evening of the attack, the dogs started following me as I went to a nearby provision store to buy eggs for them. The two accused, who were sitting at a shed, followed me and started abusing me for feeding the dogs," Meera said.

One of the accused was holding a sickle while the other was carrying some other weapon. After snatching the victim's spectacles and smashing it, the duo attacked her. On seeing the victim's mother coming towards them, the accused fled. The victim dialled 112 emergency number and called the police who on reaching told her to first obtain treatment. P3

You stop reporting, we'll deal with stray dogs: MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

"YOU (media) stop reporting and remain silent on stray dogs and allow us to take some action to resolve the stray dog problem," said MP Pratap Simha, here on Friday.

After meeting officials at the Mysuru City Corporation, Simha, while talking to reporters, mentioned the horrific incident in Telangana where a five-year-old child was mauled to death by a pack of stray dogs. He said that worryingly, stray dogs have increased in Mysuru.

"We are unable to take any action because of animal lovers. They realise the problem when stray dogs bite their kids. Feeding stray dogs will not bring any good and it is not as big a social service as they project it. We have to cull stray dogs to solve the problem," he said. P3

Only inclusive agenda can win back confidence, says Modi at G20 meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ADDRESSING the first meeting of the Finance Ministers and Central Bank Governors under India's G20 Presidency via video message on Thursday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said the creation of an inclusive agenda is essential to tide over the varied issues affecting the world. "Global economic leadership can win back the confidence of the world only by creating an inclusive agenda," the Prime Minister reiterated.

Stressing on the theme of India's G20 Presidency — One Earth, One Family, One Future — which looks to promote an inclusive vision, Modi stated, "It is up to the custodians of the leading economies and monetary systems of the world to bring back stability, confidence and growth to the global economy.. Focus your discussions on the most vulnerable citizens of the world."

Casting the spotlight on the vibrancy of the Indian economy, Modi highlighted the optimism of Indian producers and consumers about the future of this economy and hoped member participants would draw inspiration from it, while transmitting the same positive spirit at the global level. P4

PM to inaugurate Mys-B'luru e-way on March 11

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the newly-built Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway and also take part in the groundbreaking ceremony for the proposed four-lane express road from Mysuru to Kushalnagar, at an event to be held in Mandya on March 11.

Confirming this, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha said the decision was taken at a meeting he held with officials here on Friday.

"As the project was completed during PM Modi's tenure, it would be appropriate that he himself throws it open to the public," Simha said.

When asked if he would take the plunge into state politics, Simha said that he wishes to continue as a parliamentarian till 2029 under the leadership of Modi.

"I am here not to do long-term politics but to develop my constituency and make it a model for other constituencies in a span of 15 years."

BBMP's Khata Andolana aims for ₹4Kcr tax pool

Khata to be issued in 7-15 days; ARO offices to have helpdesks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER crossing the Rs3,000-crore property tax collection target in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits, the Palike now aims to touch Rs 4,000 crore by March-end. For this, it has launched 'Khata Andolana', in which the Palike will facilitate citizens to pay tax at the nearest revenue office.

BBMP Special Commissioner, Revenue, RL Deepak said, "Khata Andolana has been launched to bring all assets under BBMP's jurisdiction in the register and bring them under the purview of property tax. People can reach out to any of the 64 BBMP revenue sub-division offices and ask officials which documents are needed to obtain 'A Khata' or 'B Khata'."

The officer also said that helpdesks will be set up at the offices of assistant revenue officers (ARO) in all zones, and will function from 11am to 4pm.

Through the programme, property owners under the corporation can apply by contacting the offices of AROs and submitting the property documents. Applications for registration of accounts shall be verified and details of assets registered within the prescribed time limit and brought under the purview of property tax. "The khata will be issued in 7-15 days and the ARO, deputy revenue commissioners and joint commissioners are authorised to issue khatas based on the extent of land," said Deepak. Zonal DCs have also been appointed as nodal officers to supervise the Khata Andolana work, he added.

"By facilitating the public to obtain khata first, the Palike will not just earn revenue but will boost its property collection," the official stressed.

'B Khata' owners need not pay 2x tax

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE BBMP (Amendment) Bill, 2023, which exempts lakhs of owners of 'B Khata' properties in Bengaluru from paying double the tax, was passed in the Legislative Council on Friday. The government's move to introduce the Bill with a few months left for assembly elections, is seen as an exercise to woo voters of Bengaluru.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai tabled the Bill, and it was passed without much discussion. The statement of objects and reasons to amend the BBMP Act, 2020 (Karnataka Act 53 of 2020) was mentioned as proper maintenance of the property tax register, and to exempt recognised educational institutions from paying property tax. The move by the BJP-led government is likely to help around six lakh people who own 'B Khata' properties.

As per the existing Act, the BBMP used to levy double the property tax from every building and vacant land which violates of the provisions of building bylaws or is located in an unauthorised layout or revenue land. The same applied to buildings occupied without the issue of an occupancy or completion certificate. The property tax collected from such properties was maintained in a separate register and these were called 'B Khata' properties.

Fake papers given for pourakarmika jobs: Forum

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) pourakarmikas alleged that in many wards, more than one member of the same family have been appointed, which is in violation of the law.

They demanded that the order of appointment of more than 3,000 pourakarmikas be cancelled, and an investigation launched. Appointment was done using fake documents, and by giving bribes, depriving a genuine workers of an opportunity, they alleged.

The Karnataka Pourakarmika Sangha said that they will move the high court, and file a petition demanding an investigation into alleged irregularity in appointments.

Sangha's president, Tyagaraj said after the recent announcement by the government about recruitment of pourakarmikas in BBMP, he was shocked to find out that many members of the Sangha, who have been working with the Palike for the decade, have been left out.

"In many cases, names of members of the same family have appeared in the recruitment list. In one instance, a family identified as 'Boya', of the ST community, 30 members have been recruited, while in another case, Naresh, son of Narayan, a pourakarmika, has been added to the list. However, the date of birth of the father and son showed that the son is a year older than his father, which shows there has been irregularity in the recruitment process," said Tyagaraj.

The sangha had also given a letter of objection to the Palike. "We will also be launching a massive protest and will not clear garbage or clean the roads," said Tyagaraj.

Anjanamma, a pourakarmika working at Girinagar ward, warned that if Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai does not cancel the appointment order and launches a probe, she will have no other option but self-immolation.

ANXIETIES MOUNT AS BOARD AGAINST DEFERRING NEET PG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the National Board of Examinations (NBE) on Friday informing the Supreme Court that since more than 2 lakh candidates have registered for the National Eligibility Cum Entrance Test (NEET) Post Graduate (PG) 2023, no alternative dates for the exam might be available in near future if it is postponed, students preparing for the exam are anxious about the ongoing discussions and protests regarding the postponement.

The discussion of postponing the exam has been gaining traction ever since the exam dates were announced in January.

Initially, the students had protested, demanding that the internship dates be extended from March 31, 2023, as many students would be ineligible for the exam. Later, based on the demand, the Union Health Ministry revised the internship dates till August 11.

The NBE order said, "Initially, when the cut off date of the exam was March 31, more than 2 lakh students had already registered without any objection. Surprisingly, after the extension, only 5,000 additional applications were received." Hence, the board officials concluded that deferring the exam will not be ideal as the 2 lakh students will suffer as they have been preparing for the exam.

The Andhra Pradesh high court has been hearing a case regarding the issue.

Students complained there was no proper clarification regarding the dates, and the issue has been trending on social media. Students are worried about how well they can be prepared, a post-intern PG student said, adding that the counselling process will start only in August once the internships are over. Many interns, who have finished early, will have to wait for five months for the counselling process, and will be unable to work as no hospital would hire them for such a short time, she said.

SSLC students can tune in for lessons on radio

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Department of State Educational Research and Training (DSERT) announced they will make use of their Bandhani Radio Programme to broadcast lessons for the upcoming Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) examinations.

In a circular, DSERT said that for the benefit of students appearing for the SSLC examinations, which is scheduled to take place from March 31, the Bandhani Radio Programme will broadcast lessons on various subjects till the examinations start. The Bandhani Radio Programme was launched in December 2022, under which DSERT broadcasts lessons for classes 1 to 9 in different subjects from Monday to Thursday. The radio shows are broadcast on 13 radio stations and three Vividh Bharati stations in the state. They are also made available on the All India Bengaluru YouTube channel.

DSERT has announced the shows will cater to the students who will appear in the SSLC exams in March and April. Lessons will be broadcast from February 27 to March 23, from Monday to Thursday, and everyday, lessons on a different subject will be broadcast from 2.35pm to 3.00pm.

DSERT has instructed the deputy director to ensure that students details and timetable of the shows are given to students, and distributed in all schools for the authorities to ensure that the radios are functioning. They have also advised that schools should make sure that students are able to complete their lessons in time to tune in for the radio shows.

REVISED RECRUITMENT LIST OF PRIMARY TEACHERS BY NEXT WEEK, SAYS MINISTER

Bengaluru: School Education and Literacy Minister BC Nagesh said that the department would publish a revised provisional selection list for the recruitment of 15,000 graduate primary school teachers classes 6 to 8 by next week. After some candidates moved the high court, the department was ordered by the court to revise the provisional selection list and consider married women candidates' fathers' caste and income certificates for the selection. The department has withdrawn the earlier released list of provisionally selected candidates and will publish a revised list as per the high court order. Nagesh said that the decision had taken taken following a meeting with the advocate general, chief secretary and officials of the education department.

PETER VIDAL

25TH February: We are at last beginning to find other Earth-like planets in distant regions of outer-space. What does this mean for us? Well, for one thing, we may not be alone. Somewhere, someplace, far away, there are creatures just like us, looking for us just as we search for them. But will we ever meet? I just don't know!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You definitely now need the full support, goodwill and co-operation of partners or close companions. This advice applies as much to your personal affairs as to your ambitions at work. Actually, the best backing could come from distant, far-away places.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Six planets offer you their support and assistance. So this should be a positive period. If you run into difficulties, this is a mess-age that somehow you are doing something radically wrong and failing to make the most of your many personal advantages.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There's a little-known point in your horoscope known as the north node. This factor is now due to be responsible for increasing good fortune from secret matters and discreet connections. It will also show you the way forward in your closest family relationships.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There may be some slight emotional stress, as family members are thrown together in unexpected circumstances. You have a perfectly free choice as to whether you get involved or stand to one side as they slug it out. The choice, as ever, is yours, and yours alone.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mars is still agitating the financial sector of your solar horoscope, so don't complain if you have been cut short, or if a financial matter is more costly than you expected. The situation will soon become more stable, enabling you to salvage a major achievement.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Hopefully many parts of the jigsaw will now fit into place. You've worked hard enough over the past few weeks, and every single piece of good luck that comes your way will be thoroughly well-deserved. Continue to check out a financial offer.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Social stars are ideal, mainly thanks to the continuing varied and helpful alignments of Mercury, Venus and Mars. There is little pressure to finalise transactions and agreements or to meet social deadlines, so you can afford to set your own pace - and stick to it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There are emotional hurdles to be cleared and individuals to be put in their place. However, you don't know the full picture and a little tolerance and humility would not come amiss. What seems most likely at the moment, is that you will be able to persuade a partner that you meant well, even if it didn't seem like it at the time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have probably encountered so much aggravation in the past that nothing can surprise you now. You must plan a relaxing weekend, especially if you're recovering from professional battles. Find whatever way you can to soothe your troubled brow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It would be extremely unwise to be complacent about current partnership problems just because other people seem to be happier than usual. Now is the time to clear up a few long-standing difficulties. Mind you, while a number of facts are still secret, there may be no final solution.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Although you are by nature an outgoing person, circumstances have reduced you to a somewhat secretive, private frame of mind. Other people have no automatic right to intrude on your personal affairs - so why let them? You'd probably do best to throw them some small morsels of comfort, while keeping what is really important to yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Jupiter is now taking up a position that urges you to be more self-disciplined and determined. You want to attain your dreams, but to do this you must finally get to grips with the practical details. Actually, you're often better at dealing with such matters than you imagine - or than other people expect.

Karnataka to implement Central Equipment Identity Registry; effective for blocking lost phone sets, will slash thefts

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru:

KARNATAKA police are using cutting edge technology to monitor and prevent crime. With a phenomenal increase in mobile phone thefts, the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) is implementing a Central Equipment Identity Registry (CEIR) to block stolen and lost phones.

The CEIR connects to the International Mobile Equipment Identity (IMEI) database of all mobile operators, and acts as a central system for all telecommunication service providers (TSPS) to share lost/stolen mobile devices, so that the device blocked in one network does not work in other networks, even if the Subscriber Identity Module (SIM) card in the device is changed.

"The CEIR project has been implemented throughout the state, and login credentials are created for all the units," said Director General & Inspector General of Police (DG&IGP) Praveen Sood. Karnataka police are the third to implement the CEIR project after Delhi and Maharashtra. "The CEIR, if properly implemented, will help curtail the counterfeit mobile market and discourage mobile phone theft, while protecting consumer interest. The objective is to make mobile thefts less lucrative," said Sood.

To block a stolen mobile set with the CEIR, the owner/complainant should visit www.ceir.gov.in. In case the complainant /user does not block the mobile set, the Station House Officer (SHO) shall send the details generated through 'e lost', or details of cases booked under Section 392 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) of stolen mobiles to nodal officers, to block the mobile sets. The police inspector, Cyber, Economics & Narcotics police, (CEN) is the nodal officer at the unit level.

"The nodal officers shall scrutinise requests from police stations to block mobile sets and make a blocking request in CEIR portal through the logins provided to the units. Once the traceability report is generated through CEIR, the nodal officers shall communicate to police stations, and efforts will be made by them to trace the mobile sets," said the police chief.

What happens if the stolen or lost mobile set is found? In such an eventuality, the SHO shall send a request to the nodal officers to unblock the mobile phones. The nodal officers will forward the request to the CEIR to unblock the mobile set through their designated logins.

The nodal officers are also required to send a monthly report to the unit heads, of the list of mobile sets to be blocked and/or unblocked, along with the case details. The unit heads will scrutinise the reports and analyse whether the CEIR is properly implemented or not.

HC strikes down liquor licence renewal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court kept in abeyance the renewal of a liquor licence approved by the Commissioner of Excise to one of the partners of a liquor shop, by observing that the state cannot try to protect its own interest of revenue when two partners in a business are involved in litigation.

The Commissioner had passed an order clearing the renewal of the licence on the ground that the state exchequer would suffer if the licence was not renewed.

"Commissioner of Excise has in fact passed an order approving the renewal of the licence on the ground that the state exchequer would suffer which cannot be a ground for renewal of the licence of a private party. The state cannot seek to try and protect its own interest of revenue when two partners are involved in litigation. The said observation made by the Excise Commissioner is completely untenable", said Justice Suraj Govindaraj.

Answering a question on whether if any of the partners continue the business of the firm once a suit for dissolution of the partnership is pending, the court said the plaintiff in a suit for dissolution of a firm cannot seek renewal of a licence and continuance of the business.

Allowing the petition filed by Nagalinga, a resident of the city, the court said that no person shall be permitted to make use of the licence in question during a pending suit between the two partners in Mandya.

Four of family hacked to death in Bhatkal village

Karwar: Four members of a family were found murdered in their house in Haduvalli village in Bhatkal Rural police station limits. The accused is said to have used a sword or sharp weapon to kill Shambu Bhat, 65, and his family members Mahadevi, Rajiv and Kusuma, over a property issue. A four-year-old child sleeping in the house and another 10-year-old boy who was playing in the neighbourhood, were spared. Police arrested the accused, Vinay Sridhar Bhat. Sources said Vinay is the brother-in-law of Shambu Bhat's son Sridhar, who recently died of cancer. After Sridhar's death, his wife Vidya had approached her in-laws, seeking a share in the property, to which Shambu Bhat had consented after a brief argument. The property given to Vidya was managed by Vinay. ENS

Miscreants break windshields of 6 vehicles

Bengaluru: Two bike-borne miscreants broke the windshields of six cars in Srinivasanagar around 2.50 am on Friday. The accused are suspected to be under the influence of alcohol. The incident has been captured in CCTV cameras in the vicinity. The Hanumanthanagar police have registered a case. ENS

Case registered, but accused yet to be held

THIS is the second time that Meera has been attacked in the last three years. She has claimed that the police, despite having all the proof, are only giving excuses instead of arresting the accused. The first case is still in the trial stage.

"The attackers also abused me for being a non-Kannadiga as I was speaking in Hindi, although I can speak fluent Kannada. They even said that Hindi-speaking people are arrogant. I was born and brought up in Bengaluru and am presently staying in a rented house in the layout since 2018," the victim added.

After receiving treatment at Nimhans, Meera lodged a complaint at the jurisdictional Bannerghatta police station. The police said they have managed to get the CCTV footage of the incident.

"The case is under investigation. No arrests have been made as yet. It appears that the two accused are locals," said a police officer who is part of the probe team.

A case of causing hurt by dangerous weapons (IPC 324) along with other sections of the IPC has been registered against the accused.

Cull dogs without compassion: Simha

Seeking the support of media persons, he said, "As there is a Supreme Court order, stray dogs cannot be culled. Leaders from our own party create problems when stray dogs are killed. Even the media takes up incidents of attacks on stray dogs. While tigers and elephants have one or two litter, dogs have nearly 10 puppies. They should be eliminated without any compassion." Claiming that he too was a victim of stray dogs chasing him causing accidents, the MP said that many bikers have broken their bones trying to escape from stray dogs. "If such stray dogs have to be avoided, you (press) should stop reporting the action initiated by us. You remain silent for a few days and allow us to take action," he told reporters. He directed civic authorities to take action against restaurants and chicken and mutton stalls if they dump food or meat waste on the roadside or vacant lands as stray dogs consume it. "As per reports, stray dogs have killed 21 children over the past few days. We don't want such a situation in Mysuru," he said. ENS

Fire personnel douse the fire that engulfed a car parked on Queen's Road on Friday night | GOPALAKRISHNAN N

Close shave for 5 as car bursts into flames

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FIVE occupants of a car, including two children, had a narrow escape when the car they had just alighted from caught fire and was charred on Queen's Road on Friday night. They had come from Banashankari in a Ford Fiesta to the Express Bulding to attend a birthday party.

The petrol car was with family for nearly six years, they said. Businessman Mukhtar Ahmed was the last to get out of the car. He told TNIE, "I dropped my wife, our relative and her two kids just two minutes ago. Due to lack of parking space inside, I opted to park my vehicle on the road."

As he was parking, he noticed smoke emanating from the car. "I had a bottle of water and I tried pouring it to douse the fire. But the fire only kept spreading, so I jumped out of the car," he said.

A fire tender arrived soon after and doused the fire.

Traffic on both sides of Queen's Road came to a standstill.

Among those watching the car in flames were worried owners of vehicles parked behind it. Even as the car continued to burn, the owner of a car who had parked right behind swiftly removed it.

Cong's 3rd promise: Free 10 kg rice

Shivakumar says the scheme will eliminate hunger among BPL cardholders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER promising a financial assistance of Rs 2,000 to women heads of households and 200 units of free power to all houses, Congress on Friday announced providing 10 kg of rice free per month to BPL cardholders under the Anna Bhagya scheme.

Announcing the Congress' third guarantee to voters ahead of the Assembly polls, state Congress president DK Shivakumar said the party's previous government was giving 7 kg of rice per person under the scheme, but it was reduced to 5 kg by the BJP government.

"The Anna Bhagya Yojana was an important scheme launched by the previous Congress government to provide free foodgrains under the Food Security Act which benefited millions of families. This time, we will give 10 kg rice free," he said.

He said the party programmes are aimed at helping people. Providing 10 kg free rice will eliminate hunger, he said.

Opposition Leader in the Assembly Siddaramaiah said the government's decision to reduce rice given under the scheme disappointed people and during the party campaign, many asked them to increase it if the Congress comes to power.

He said that now around Rs 4,000 to 5,000 crore is required to provide rice under the scheme and increasing it to 10 kg may require additional funds of Rs 3,000 to Rs 4,000 crore.

"Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai says it is Prime Minister Narendra Modi's programme and not Siddaramaiah's. If that was the case, why such a scheme is not there in Gujarat and Uttar Pradesh," he asked.

The Congress earlier announced it will provide 200 units of free electricity to every house in the state and Rs 2,000 to the woman head of households.

PM lauds BSY's speech

Prime Minister Narendra Modi praised former chief minister BS Yediyurappa's speech in the state Legislative Assembly on Friday. "As a BJP worker, I found the speech very inspiring," the PM tweeted. He said the former CM's speech will inspire all party workers as he spoke about the party's principles. The PM was reacting to BJP Karnataka's tweet on Yediyurappa's speech in the Assembly. Yediyurappa responded to the PM's remarks by stating that under his inspiring leadership, all the party workers will strive hard to strengthen the party. During his address at the Assembly, Yediyurappa spoke about the state budget and his commitment to bring the party back to power. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said "his mentor Yediyurappa" appreciated his budget and those words are an inspiration to him.

BSY bids adieu to electoral politics, but won't hang up boots soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

BIDDING a formal farewell on the last day of the last session of the 15th Assembly on Friday, senior BJP leader and former chief minister BS Yediyurappa reiterated that he will not contest the next Assembly polls, claiming that his son BY Vijayendra is likely to take up the Shikaripura seat which he represented since 1983.

"But this does not mean I have retired. I will continue to work hard to bring BJP back to power," he said. In Karnataka, which BJP considers as its gateway to the South, he managed to be at the helm every time the saffron party formed the government or was part of the government since 2006. Then, the N Dharam Singh-led Congress-JDS alliance government had collapsed and JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy formed the government in alliance with BJP, where Yediyurappa was his deputy.

Yediyurappa expressed his gratitude to the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh claiming that the BJP think tank was responsible for his phenomenal rise in politics.

The Lingayat strongman sprang a surprise by terming former prime minister HD Deve Gowda as the 'ideal' leader and politicians have a lot to learn from him as he has been studious about subjects even at his old age.

He thanked Speaker Vishweshwara Hegde Kageri, opposition leader Siddaramaiah and JDS leader AT Ramaswamy for their effective performance as legislators. He patted Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai for delivering the goods, while the latter thanked Yediyurappa for his support.

> BS Yediyurappa, BJP leader

Members of the House gave the 79-year-old leader a big round of applause as four decades of his illustrious political career with eight times as MLA and four times as CM came to an end.

"BJP gave me enough opportunities. I will turn 80 on February 27 and Prime Minister Narendra Modi will come to Shivamogga and inaugurate the airport. This has brought me great relief and satisfaction," he told reporters. He added that his son BY Vijayendra, state BJP vice-president, will likely contest from the Shikaripura seat in the Assembly polls due in April/May.

He reminisced about the days of his struggle from being a member of the Shikaripur Municipal Council to becoming a chief minister. "I am eternally indebted to the people of Shikaripur and continue to repay it," he said.

Last speech in House evokes mixed response

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH former chief minister B S Yediyurappa bidding adieu to electoral politics, his farewell speech in the floor of the house evoked mixed reaction among MLAs cutting across party lines.

Congress leader Eshwar Khandre said people of the state, especially Lingayats, will never forget the manner in which the BJP ousted Yediyurappa from the CM's post with the latter breaking down in tears.

Replying quickly, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J C Madhuswamy advised Khandre not to take political mileage from the farewell day of the session. "I am not politicising, but expressing my feelings," Khandre countered.

Madhuswamy said, "Yediyurappa had taken the decision to step down as CM on his own and also to retire from electoral politics as age is a factor," he remarked.

However, Khandre gave the example of former prime minister H D Deve Gowda and Congress MLA Shamanuru Shivashankarappa who are still active in electoral politics.

Former Union minister Basanagouda Patil Yatnal fired barbs at Yediyurappa. "I had the credentials of being the Union home minister in the Atal Behari Vajpeyi cabinet. But Yediyurappa snubbed me in the state as he had apprehension that I may run for the chief minister's post," Yatnal, a Panchamasali Lingayat leader, said.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, who had also started his political career by contesting unsuccessfully from Thirthahalli assembly seat in 1983, observed that Yediyurappa's farewell to electoral politics is a "matter of concern".

Senior JD(S) MLA Sa Ra Mahesh termed Yediyurappa as his guru during the former's initial stage in politics.

Economy will bounce back to pre-Covid stage: CM

IN THE HOUSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said Karnataka's economy will bounce back to the pre-Covid stage in the financial year 2023-24 and the state may become revenue surplus by the end of the current financial year.

During his reply to the budget discussion in the council on Friday, which also passed the vote of account, Bommai noted that usually the increase in budget size year-on-year will be about 6-8 per cent, but the state budget had increased by 16 per cent compared to the previous year.

"It was estimated that there will be a revenue deficit of Rs 14,699 crore by the end of this financial year. However, it has reduced to Rs 5,996 crore by January-end and we are expecting that the state may be in a revenue surplus by March. In the coming fiscal year, the state's economy will bounce back to the pre-Covid times," he said, adding that Karnataka's economy was on the right track due to financial discipline maintained by his government.

The CM said Karnataka is in a better position financially compared to many other states. "While states like Kerala and Rajasthan are still reeling under deficit, we have presented a surplus budget. Despite the economic crisis induced by the pandemic, we have sailed through it and have chalked out various schemes for the people of the state," he said adding that spending on human development, especially on weaker sections of the society, should not be seen as an expenditure, but an investment.

SC/ST quota hike will bring in major changes, says Bommai

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Friday that legislation passed by the BJP government will help develop different sectors and have generated jobs to 2 to 3 crore people across Karnataka directly or indirectly."The historic decision to increase the reservation for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes by 6 per cent from 18 per cent to 24 will bring in a major change and will affect the entire country. We have taken the first step to bring about a big change and we will win," he said, hinting that the hike in quota will get the Centre's nod for inclusion in the Ninth schedule of the Constitution. "We have efficiently handled the challenges of rebuilding the country after Covid, including economic recovery and social development. Bill on extending work hours passed amid walkout by Oppn

Amidst strong opposition and walkout by members, including one from the ruling party, the Factories (Karnataka Amendment) Bill, 2023, which allows the government to increase the number of work hours, was passed in the Legislative Council on Friday. Higher Education Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan tabled the Bill on behalf of Labour Minister Shivaram Hebbar with BJP MLC Ayanur Manjunath demanding that there should be a serious discussion on the Bill. Congress and JDS members registered their objection to the Bill while members of the ruling party, Manjunath and Tejasvini Gowda, strongly opposed the Bill. While the opposition members termed the Bill as a death knell for labourers, Manjunath said it will be inhuman if the government goes ahead with the Bill. ENS

MY TAKE

CRIME RISING WITH EDUCATION? ARE WE MISSING SOMETHING HERE?

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

KARNATAKA Home Minister Araga Jnanendra on Thursday in his replies in the state assembly revealed something he called "unfortunate". He said crime in Karnataka was increasing despite education and financial status improving.

Better education and financial status ideally leads to better well-being. If that is to be believed then crime should have been on the decline. But that is not what seems to be happening here.

Crime cases filed under sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) in 2020 were 1,04,931. It rose to 1,14,024 in 2021; 1,27,415 in 2022; and 11,184 in January 2023 alone. There were 10,738 cyber crime cases in 2020, which dropped to 8,132 in 2021; rose to 12,551 in 2022; and 1,325 in January.

What may be required here is uplifting education to justify it as "education" and not merely ensuring absorption of knowledge to measure quality of literacy. Intelligence and knowledge in action is wisdom. Education gains its full meaning only when the former two play out in tandem to churn out wisdom. If crime is on the rise, as the minister pointed out, then where is wisdom? Has education really improved in the state, or is it just 'knowledge' through the exercise of one's 'intelligence'?

Plain and simple: If crime is on the rise, education — despite the claims about its improvement — is not improving, but actually degrading. If more people are engaging in crime, then education has failed. Cyber crime is a classic example here. The perpetrator may have used his intelligence and gained the knowledge to commit the crime, but where does education and wisdom find space in it?

> If crime is on the rise, education — despite the claims about its improvement — is not improving, but actually degrading

Most crimes are those committed in pursuit of quick money, and loads of it. Money means wealth, property, luxury and affluence. Behind all these is the pursuit of social acknowledgement (read 'social status'), the means used to gain it notwithstanding.

Greed-crime perpetrators crave it riding on feelings of deprivation that tends them to feel relatively isolated, even victimized. Famous 19th century French writer Honore de Balzac wrote, "Man looks for a companion of his fate. In order to satisfy his drive…he applies all his strength, all his power, the energy of his whole life. Would Satan have found companions without this overpowering craving?"

This is an increasingly competitive world. The cutthroat competition delivers the dog-eat-dog culture. One compares one's own possessions and achievements with those of the others. The tendency to move into the fast lane to make it big in the shortest possible time becomes irresistible to many. If crime is on the rise, it's an indication that this tribe is on the increase. Consideration of whether the means to the end are criminal or not get side-stepped.

Mitch Albom in his famous book Tuesdays With Morrie, cites his old professor Morrie Schwartz, who wondered how people get brainwashed into all this: "They repeat something over and over again… More money is good. More property is good. More commercialism is good. More is good … We repeat it — and have it repeated to us — over and over until nobody bothers to think otherwise. The average person is so fogged up by all this, he has no perspective on what's really important anymore."

Maybe, if we get a precise understanding of what 'education' is, and how different it is from 'literacy' and 'gaining knowledge', besides the value of 'wisdom', things would turn for the better.

Alvin Toffler, American writer and futurist, who extensively wrote on the impact of digital and communication revolution on cultures, hit the nail on the head: "The illiterate of the 21st century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn and relearn."

'Need to bolster devpt banks for climate change'

MODI added that the participants of the meeting represent the leadership of global finance and economy at a time when the world is facing serious economic difficulties, including those emanating from the pandemic and its after-effects on the global economy, rising geopolitical tensions, disruptions in global supply chains, rising prices, food and energy security, unsustainable debt levels affecting the viability of many countries, and the erosion of trust in international financial institutions due to their inability to reform quickly.

Meanwhile, observing that the progress on the Sustainable Development Goals seems to be slowing down even as the world population crossed eight billion, Modi emphasised the need to strengthen multilateral development banks to address challenges such as climate change and high debt levels.

He stressed upon the growing dominance of technology in the finance realm, and recalled how digital payments enabled contactless and seamless transactions during the pandemic. Modi urged member participants to explore and harness the power of technology while developing standards to regulate its possible risk of destabilisation and misuse in digital finance.

Reflecting on India's strides in creating a highly secure, trusted, efficient, and seamless digital payments ecosystem that has radically transformed governance, financial inclusion, and ease of living in the country, the PM said, "Our digital payments ecosystem has been developed as a free public good…Examples like UPI can be templates for many other countries too. We would be happy to share our experience with the world and the G20 can be a vehicle for this."

Helping developing countries central to our efforts: Nirmala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday said supporting countries most in need and reflecting the concerns and aspirations of developing countries will be centred to India's efforts at the helm of the G20 Presidency.

Welcoming delegates to the first Finance Ministers and Central Bank Governors meeting under India's G20 Presidency here, Nirmala said, "Supporting the countries most in need and reflecting the concerns, the aspirations of developing countries, will be centred to our efforts. We will work closely with the Troika, the G20 membership, international organisations, and guest countries to carry forward the exemplary work of G20 presidencies before us."

For the unversed, India is part of the G20 Troika, along with Indonesia and Brazil, marking the first time that the Troika consists of three developing and emerging global economies.

Further, she mentioned, "Based on our Presidency theme (One Earth, One Family, One Future), the G20 discussions in 2023 will focus on exploring holistic solutions to the most pressing global challenges... It's our Prime Minister's vision that the Indian G20 Presidency will be a presidency of healing, harmony, hope, and one which shall usher in a new paradigm of human-centric globalisation."

She added that the G20 can transform lives around the globe by leveraging the complementary strengths of its members, while respecting country needs and circumstances.

Nirmala, South Korean counterpart discuss enhancing bilateral cooperation

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday met South Korean Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Economy and Finance Choo Kyung-ho on the sidelines of the first Finance Ministers and Central Bank governors meeting under India's G20 Presidency in Bengaluru. The two ministers discussed global issues, including India's G20 priorities of strengthening multilateral development banks, climate finance, and financing the cities of tomorrow, besides further enhancing bilateral economic cooperation. The two leaders also exchanged views on energy security and the importance of a stable supply chain in this regard, according to inputs shared on Twitter. ENS

JUSTICE NAZEER TAKES OATH AS GOVERNOR OF ANDHRA PRADESH

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayawada

FORMER judge of the Supreme Court Justice S Abdul Nazeer was sworn in as the Governor of Andhra Pradesh on Friday. In a formal swearing-in ceremony, High Court Chief Justice Prashant Kumar Mishra administered the oath of office and secrecy to Justice Nazeer.

The swearing-in-ceremony commenced, with AP Chief Secretary Dr KS Jawahar Reddy reading out the warrant of appointment issued by the President.

After the swearing-in-ceremony, Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, Chief Justice Mishra and other dignitaries greeted the Governor and presented bouquets to him. Chairman of AP Legislative Council K Moshen Raju, Cabinet Ministers, Leader of Opposition N Chandrababu Naidu, MPs, MLAs, MLCs, several serving and retired judges of the Supreme Court, Andhra Pradesh High Court, Karnataka High Court, chairmen of various corporations, several public representatives, senior officials, and the Governor's family members attended the ceremony.

Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) chairman YV Subba Reddy called on Governor Nazeer and presented him with a shawl, a photo of Lord Venkateswara and laddu prasadam.

A native of Karnataka, Justice Nazeer completed his BCom at Mahaveera College, Moodabidri. He later completed law from SDM Law College in Mangaluru. He started his career in the Karnataka High Court after enrolling as an advocate in 1983. In May 2003, he was appointed as an Additional Judge of the Karnataka High Court and was later appointed as a permanent judge in the same court. In February 2017, while serving as a judge of the Karnataka High Court, Nazeer was elevated to the Supreme Court of India. Justice Nazeer was part of the benches which issued landmark judgements on Ayodhya dispute and Triple Talaq case. He retired on January 4, 2023.

Centre's nod for Mahadayi authority office in Panaji

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

WEEKS after giving approval to the revised Detailed Project Report (DPR) of the Kalasa-Banduri project to enable Karnataka government to commence work on diversion of Mahadayi river water into Karnataka from Goa, the Union government has decided to establish the office of Mahadayi Water Authority (PRAWAH) in Panaji, Goa.

Even as Karnataka Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol said on Thursday that the government will start work on the project soon, Goa Chief Minister Pramod Sawant said the setting up of Mahadayi Water Authority office in Goa will help his state in preventing diversion of water from Mahadayi river and claimed that the Union government will not do any injustice to Goa.

In Belagavi, Karjol, however, said the Mahadayi Water Authority, which the Centre has formed afresh, would include members from all the stakeholder states, including Karnataka. He reiterated the Karnataka government's commitment to implement the Mahadayi project. "After giving approval to the state's DPR, the Union cabinet approved the creation of PRAWAH. The PRAWAH will help the stakeholder states to utilise their respective share of water which the tribunal has already allotted," said Karjol. He added that the state government had proposed to allot land in Athani to the Forest Department as an alternative to the forest land which would be utilised under the Kalasa-Banduri project.

ED attaches Joy Alukkas' properties worth ₹305.84 crore in hawala case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE ED on Friday attached movable and immovable properties worth Rs 305.84 crore of Thrissur-based jeweller Joy Alukkas. The attachment was part of a case registered against Joy Alukkas India Private Ltd and its chairman Joy Alukkas Varghese in connection with alleged hawala transactions.

ED came out with a statement in this regard through its official Twitter page. Joy Alukkas is yet to come out with a statement in this regard. The national agency has been carrying out searches at various offices of Joy Alukkas and the residence of its chairman since Wednesday. ED sources said that the attachment procedure was initiated as a preliminary probe revealed that the jeweller was involved in hawala transactions violating Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA).

"We got evidence that money was sent from India to Dubai where the jeweller has branches. The attached properties include bank accounts, cash, buildings and lands owned by Joy Alukkas. The attached properties would be released only after the trial procedure. It is a preventive measure adopted in FEMA cases," sources said.

Meanwhile, ED will soon issue a notice to Joy Alukkas to appear for interrogation. The questioning session is likely to be held next week at the ED office in Kochi. ED will also interrogate people in the management of the jewellery retailer. During the search operation, ED had seized documents and electronic gadgets, including computers, which are being examined by the investigation team.

The attached assets include 33 immovable properties (valued at Rs 81.54 crore) consisting of land and residential building in Shobha City, Thrissur, three bank accounts (having deposits of Rs 91.22 lakh), three fixed deposits worth Rs 5.58 crore and shares of Joyalukkas India Pvt Ltd (valued at Rs 217.81 crore), ED statement read.

Farmers can collect loans, pay EMIs at post offices

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE vast postal department network across the state will shortly be utilised by India Post to help out farmers in financial need, by partnering with HDFC Bank. The Karnataka Postal Circle will disburse loans to farmers and collect EMIs on their behalf across its post offices.

This is the first such venture by the state's postal department. The move is expected to benefit farmers, the bank as well as the postal department.

Speaking to TNIE, Chief Postmaster General (CPMG) Rajendra S Kumar, said, "India Post's network is expected to be leveraged to reach useful financial products and services to the under-banked and the un-banked. It will act as a lead generator for various agriculture, allied and related loans as per the basic eligibility criteria. HDFC Bank will assess the positive leads as per the bank's policies and disburse loans to the borrowers." The post office will also serve as a loan repayment centre for farmers, he added.

The applications for agriculture loans on behalf of HDFC Bank will be accepted by post offices thereby facilitating lead generation. "Collection of EMI will be done through e-payment service of post offices," the CPMG said. Another official said that HDFC Bank has a wide range of product offerings under its Rural Product suite like Secured and Unsecured crop loans to small and marginal farmers, agri infrastructure scheme loans for nursery, warehousing, agri processing, and cold storage. In addition to that, dairy loans, horticulture loans, poultry and pisciculture loans and Stand Up India Loans are available at a competitive market rate, he said.

"Many farmers in remote villages are not even aware that such loans are available and the local post office could play a crucial role in sharing information about them," the official added.

Chip centre to bridge infra gap in semicon industry

ENS @Bengaluru

UNION Minister of State for Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, Electronics and IT Rajeev Chandrasekhar inaugurated the ChipIN Centre at the Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (C-DAC) in Bengaluru on Friday.

The centre, under the Central government, is one of the largest facilities in the country that will cater specifically to the semiconductor industry. To encourage growth of semiconductor startups in the country, the centre will help provide design tools and access to fabrication facilities for chip design. It is also equipped with a virtual prototyping hardware lab. The centre is dedicated to the semiconductor design sector and has state-of-the-art equipment to improve the chip design infrastructure.

Chip designers, especially startups, will be able to use the tools at the centre to design and manufacture semiconductors. The centre will also offer courses by industry professionals. With the government focusing on the semiconductor sector, the centre aims to help bridge the gap in infrastructure, and give a fillip to startups.

Meanwhile, Chandrasekhar, announcing the launch at the second Semicon India Future-DESIGN Roadshow at IISc, also stated that a private research centre will also be launched for semiconductors.

CONG'S PUSH FOR 2024 LEADER ROLE QUEERS OPPN UNITY PITCH

Two statements over the past week, one by Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge and the other by Rahul Gandhi, come as a dampener for the opposition's unity moves. Kharge said an alliance government will replace the Narendra Modi regime in 2024, and the Congress will lead that alliance. Rahul chose to attack a potential ally—Trinamool Congress—calling it the BJP's B-team. When most opposition parties admit there can't be an alternative government without the Congress, Kharge's remarks are seen as the party's precondition for opposition unity.

The Congress led alliances in 2014 and 2019 but faced humiliating defeats both times. It was routed in states where it was in a direct fight with the BJP. Its tally in the Lok Sabha is at a historic low. A display of arrogance at this juncture is a recipe for disaster. No doubt, the mood in the Congress has changed after the success of the Bharat Jodo Yatra, but there is no proof yet that the mood of the people has also changed.

The party knows too well there can be no challenge to the BJP unless the entire opposition joins hands. It was expected of the Congress to make efforts to bring all parties on one platform. Bihar chief minister Nitish Kumar is openly appealing to the Congress to initiate discussions with the opposition. The Congress has instead attempted to assume the leadership role unilaterally. Kharge also said his party is talking to other opposition parties. Which are these parties? Nitish Kumar runs the Bihar government in alliance with the Congress. He claims to be waiting for the Congress to initiate opposition unity efforts. Other Congress allies deny having had any discussions on an election strategy for 2024.

So who all has the Congress been talking to? Are they agreeable to being led by the Congress? Then there are other regional parties which have defeated the BJP in their respective states and are against accepting Congress leadership. These parties, with over a hundred Lok Sabha seats between them, prefer being a non-Congress opposition group. With most opposition parties charting their own course, the Congress would have done well to initiate talks with them rather than make unilateral announcements about its leadership role.

DON'T FORGET GROWTH IN RACE TO CURB INFLATION

Amid the ongoing fight against inflation, will the elevated interest rates cripple demand and lead the country to unacceptably low economic growth? That is a big concern hanging like the sword of Damocles. The fractured verdict by the RBI Monetary Policy Committee in hiking the interest rate has laid bare the conflicting views of the advisors and policymakers. Two external members of the MPC, who voted against the hike, cautioned that the excessive front-loading of rate hikes carries the risk of overshooting, while four other MPC members espoused the hike. Ashima Goyal, an MPC member and emeritus professor at Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research, reckons that raising real policy rates to reduce demand has a stronger effect on growth than inflation. According to her, overshooting can have persistent deleterious effects, including instability. The other MPC member, Jayanth R Varma, professor of IIM-A, said a repo rate of 6.50% (the rate at which RBI lends money to commercial banks) would likely overshoot the policy rate needed to achieve price stability. In December, too, he had voted against a 0.35% hike.

Central banks around the globe have an unenviable job of regulating the unusually flaring inflation amid fears of a recession. RBI governor Shaktikanta Das doesn't rule out the uncertainty over inflation. He cites a string of triggers, such as geopolitical tensions, global financial market volatility, rising non-oil commodity prices, volatile crude oil prices, and weather-related events. But on February 8, the central bank hiked the benchmark interest rate for the sixth time in a row in the current tightening cycle, pushing the rate cumulatively by 2.5% in 10 months to 6.5%. This has made life difficult for the common person, with loan pricing shooting through the roof.

Despite RBI's continuous efforts, retail inflation accelerated to 6.52% in January, the highest in three months, way above its comfort zone of 4–6%. There are a few worrying points. For one, the rural inflation at 6.85% is way higher than the urban inflation of 6%. Two, several large states have recorded higher inflation than the national average.

Incidentally, when almost every other segment showed an increase in prices, vegetables showed a negative growth of 11.70%, promising tough times for farmers and the rural economy. The global outlook may have complicated India's fight against inflation. But we can't afford to let a slowdown shave off our growth prospects for long.

QUICK TAKE

E-DURBAR IN J&K

The UT of Jammu and Kashmir is the first among UTs to shift to e-governance completely. Digitisation provides single-window access to information and service links. Lakhs of government files are digitised, and the government functions from Jammu and Srinagar without physically moving the files every six months. The Durbar Move is a thing of the past. Digitisation can make governance less cumbersome and more transparent and increase civic participation. But the people must first feel they are trusted with technology and have uninterrupted internet services to access that technology. That is the surest way for e-governance to reduce the trust deficit.

ChatGPT's advent has led to concerns about convincingly crafted fake research papers polluting scientific literature

MISCONDUCT IN MEDICAL RESEARCH ENDANGERS HEALTH

DR K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist and Distinguished Professor of Public Health, PHFI

SOUMYADIP SINHA

I wish men would get back their balance among the elements. And be a bit more fiery, as incapable of telling lies as fire is." So wrote D H Lawrence in his poem Elemental (1929).

Unfortunately, people do tell lies and often present them as facts, statements or conclusions which deviate from the true nature of events. While this behaviour is dishonest in any area of work, it can be particularly disastrous in the area of health research. By falsifying research findings, misreported or fraudulent publications can misguide medical management and endanger lives. Research misconduct in medicine includes fabrication or falsification of data, selectively reporting data which suits a particular conclusion while omitting contrary data, or even completely inventing a study that was never conducted. Lesser transgressions include plagiarism, claiming credit for a study to which the scientist made no significant contribution, or rolling out many publications from the same data analysis. The penalties for each of these categories vary within and across countries.

The pressure on researchers in academic medical institutions to publish prolifically and in prestigious journals is immense since promotions as well as peer recognition depend on this. This increases the temptation to resort to devious practices. Research grants, too, flow more copiously to researchers who have previously published in that area or an allied field. Awards are also conferred aplenty, as researchers with a blazing track of publications are boosted into higher echelons of the academic world.

In the early 1980s, the academic world was shocked when John Darsee, a brilliant young researcher at Harvard, was guilty of fabricating data and publishing fraudulent papers in renowned journals. Prior to this, he was regarded as a superstar and rewarded with a faculty position by the famous Harvard cardiologist Eugene Braunwald—who also featured as a senior author in some of Darsee's papers. On initial exposure of fraud, one paper was first retracted but later, several other past publications were found to be flawed or fabricated. Many publications had to then be retracted. Darsee left Harvard in disgrace.

Several lessons emerged from this episode. The hunger for success and recognition can lure a bright mind onto the wrong path. "Publish or perish" was the motto in most academic institutions. Senior authors who were not involved in the fraud were still guilty of not checking the data carefully before lending their name to the papers. Early investigations were a hurried exercise to protect the image of the institution. However, younger researchers were observant of the flaws, investigated the records, exposed the fraud and ensured action.

Rules related to research misconduct were framed thereafter, requiring all authors to declare the nature of involvement with the research and the related manuscript. For academic promotions, attention was shifted from the number of publications to the quality of the top five or ten identified by the researcher. Duplicate publications and plagiarism drew opprobrium but not severe penalties. Plagiarism was punished through administrative censure and stalled advancement in one's academic career. Despite this, fraud has continued. When exposed, authors retracted the papers voluntarily or under pressure from journal editors. Many countries, including India, have had some researchers accused or found guilty of research fraud. With an increasing number of journals, including digital publications, an exponential rise in research publications has occurred in recent years. The peer review process has become overwhelmed and fraudulent research finds it easier to slip through a slipshod review process.

During the pandemic, the phenomenon of pre-prints emerged wherein papers were placed in the public domain even before peer review. While this facilitated a quick sharing of scientific observations during a public health emergency, it also presented an opportunity to publish doctored papers with dressed up data. Between January 2020 and October 2021, 157 Covid-related papers were retracted. Several of them were in prominent journals. Two of them were on the effects of hydroxychloroquine and some blood pressure medicines on Covid. It was diligently probed by other researchers, leading to the exposure of dubious data. Selective reporting or censoring of data can also be misleading. A recent dispute between American interventional cardiologists and cardiac surgeons relates to 'evidence-based' guidelines on coronary stenting versus bypass surgery.

The advent of digital technology has also provided greater ease to researchers in altering radiologic images and photographs of pathological findings. Apart from image distortion, the use of artificial intelligence can create convincingly publishable fake images. Stanford University recently investigated its president, Marc Tessier-Lavin, a renowned neuroscientist, after some of his scientific publications were detected to have altered images. Was he personally responsible or merely an insufficiently attentive senior author like Braunwald? In either case, the lapse damages his reputation while bringing research into disrepute.

The explosive growth of ChatGPT has led to concerns about convincingly crafted fake research papers polluting scientific literature. Unless the institutions employing the researchers can vouch for the actual conduct of research and veracity of data, such manuscripts can fool reviewers, journals and readers.

It is clear that medical research will continue to face the problem of misconduct or even plain fraud because the stakes are high in the publication race. This calls for much better training on research and publication ethics to young researchers, much greater diligence in supervision and integrity in co-authorship for their senior colleagues and mentors, a painstakingly thorough peer review process, close scrutiny by editorial staff of journals, and acceptance by institutional leaders to take prompt, punitive action against their errant employees who wilfully commit research fraud. It also calls for a consistent and universally adopted reward system of academic promotions and grants which values quality of publications over quantity and social impact of the research over the prestige of the journal where it is published. If this does not happen, fake medical research will do as much harm as fake medicines.

BALLOONING SUPERPOWER RIVALRY

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

The last month has seen an unprecedented fiasco centred on the US response to purported Chinese gossage spying on the continental US. After days spent stoking public and media hysteria about an intelligence-level intrusion, the US shot down a 200-ft-tall "unidentified anomalous phenomenon" (UAP) that the Chinese called a weather balloon knocked off course by errant winds, and the US insisted was a spy aerostat.

US President Joe Biden ensured that the Chinese high-altitude balloon (HAB) was shot down in Top Gun style by an F-22 on live television. This wasn't just about geopolitics. It was also about primetime entertainment to build a Hollywoodian narrative about a stealthy, omniscient enemy. In quick succession, the US shot down three more balloons under the apprehension that they, too, were Chinese spy balloons.

Turns out that they were not. One was K9YO, a picoballoon—a polyester Mylar balloon measuring less than a metre in diameter and utterly harmless—belonging to the Northern Illinois Bottlecap Balloon Brigade (NIBBB). Another was cylindrical—possibly an advertising or announcement dirigible, a corporate or sports blimp that might have come untethered. (Only 25 of these semi-rigid blimps are still in existence, and about half are used for advertising.) Yet another was an octagonal object with strings hanging off it. None of these had discernible payloads and was not transmitting communications signals.

The head of the US North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) and Northern Command said on record that he wasn't ruling out alien spacecraft, UFOs, "or anything else". Later, of course, with the North American UFO community suddenly sitting bolt upright after a deep sleep and the American Right-wing cackling derisively like Mephistopheles, the Biden administration hurried to deny any theories about alien incursions.

The intelligence community's "current assessment", said an insufficiently mortified President Biden, was that three balloons were "most likely balloons tied to private companies, recreation or research institutions studying weather or conducting other scientific research".

The US intelligence community now holds that even the first balloon, which lifted off from Hainan on China's southern coast, did not intend to travel over the continental US but was blown off its path by strong winds. The balloon's original surveillance target was likely Guam, but the weather skewed the balloon northward.

There were enough indications that targeting the three balloons was a botch. Despite being small, picoballoons, which are shiny and extremely reflective, light up radars. Launched by amateurs and with feather-weight hobby payloads, they criss-cross the US mainland all the time. In effect, the US military shot down a tiny, GPS-tracked hobby balloon worth $12 with a Sidewinder missile costing $439,000. All four balloons were brought down by AIM-9X Sidewinders. That's a total of $1.8 million. No, wait. One missile missed the Chinese forager. That's five Sidewinders for $2.2 million, four of them wasted. That the US security apparatus was not able to distinguish a simple picoballoon from a spying aerostat has astonished the intelligence community worldwide. The Biden administration then said that the three smaller balloons, hovering at 20,000–40,000 feet, had been shot down because they endangered commercial airliner traffic. However, the Chinese bloat bag was pootling around at 60,000 feet, endangering nothing at all.

AFP

> Could it be that this event, an American misadventure by the yardstick, is being dragged out not because it has natsec value but is meant to keep Sino-US tensions unrelentingly high?

The US government's serial statements do not make much sense except, perhaps, to the rarefied, spaced-out world of hyper security. Some flotsam from the Chinese balloon has been collected from a choppy, shallow, 11-sq-km debris field. Still, nothing is forthcoming about what the debris says about the nature of the balloon, aside from the insistence that they indicate espionage. The other three balloons remain unidentified: the search for their odds and ends has been called off.

The US' National Weather Service launches about 60,000 high-altitude balloons, some rising to 32 km or far higher than the four balloons so coldbloodedly executed. It releases two a day from 900 locations around the world, 92 of them in the US. The balloons reach high altitudes of 30 km and can drift 200 km.

The Chinese balloon was shot down at the height of 18 km over Alaska, with the maximum number of weather-balloon launchpads in the US. NASA has launched extended data-gathering missions upwards of 1,700 giant gasbags—10–15 each year worldwide—larger than football stadia with ceilings of up to 37 km and 3.6 tonne payloads.

As the New York Times says: "The United States is not alone in its frequent use of balloons. Many of the 193 member states and territories of the World Meteorological Organization, based in Geneva, regularly send up stratospheric balloons in large numbers, some designed for long-term missions that collect data from around the globe."

So, could it be that this event, an American misadventure by the yardstick, is being dragged out not because it has natsec value but is meant to keep Sino-US tensions unrelentingly high? Or is it a case of a more mundane bureaucratic power struggle?

In July 2022, the Department of Defense (DoD) formed the All-domain Anomaly Resolution Office (AARO) to begin analysing, identifying and reporting "unidentified anomalous phenomena" (UAPs)—anything unidentifiable in space, the air or sea that might pose a military threat.

Six months after it was set up to micro-search the skies, did AARO, a relatively new office within the DoD, overreach? After all, according to the AARO director, it works with "the military departments and the Joint Staff to normalise, integrate and expand UAP reporting beyond the aviators—to all service members—including mariners, submariners and our space Guardians".

Soon after the bulk of the dust settled into diplomatic grousing, Biden seems to have turned his attention inwards to interagency scrabbling. "We don't have any evidence of a sudden increase in the number of objects in the sky. We're now just seeing more of them partially because of the steps we've taken to increase our radars, to narrow our radars."

Govt adding to our burden

The government adds to our burden by hiking property tax by 250% and water and sewerage tax by a like amount. No notification was sent to warn consumers. These are basic requirements. How is life to be managed? Don't we need water in the toilets for a bath and cleaning vessels? Chennai citizens, unlike their counterparts in Kolkata, seem passive, accepting everything without protest. We are pensioners and honest taxpayers. We don't qualify for any type of subsidy.

An unsupportive opposition

Apropos of George Soros and his deep throat claims (Feb 24). I would like to congratulate the writer for his balanced views. When Indira Gandhi was suspected of conspiracy, Indian media and the opposition supported her to the hilt. But what is the situation now? Did the opposition support the present government during the pandemic? They ridiculed Modi. The documentary was praised by the opposition parties and they joined the foreign media against the government!

Congress' hypocrisy

Apropos of Is Air India deal such a big deal (Feb 23). During the Congress' decades-long rule, crores of taxpayers' money was wasted. Air India ate tax money for the benefit of a few employees. Nothing was done by the Congress for the aviation industry in India. They criticise the present government if it does something.

Oppn unity ineffective without us, says Cong

Says at Raipur plenary that if a coalition takes place, it has to be on the basis of constructive common programme

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE Congress on Friday asserted that the opposition unity though exists and remains capable, it will not be effective without a strong Congress.

The party's views came during the ongoing 85th plenary session in Raipur.

Party general secretary Jairam Ramesh underlined the strength of the Opposition, saying that his party believed in two things: to strengthen the Opposition unity, there is a need for a strong Congress to make it work effectively and, if the coalition takes place, it has to be on the basis of a constructive common programme.

Congress has appreciated the unity displayed by opposition parties against the Enforcement Directorate (ED), citing how 17 parties on August 3, 2022, issued a statement when they unanimously said the amendment bought by the Modi government on the Prevention of Money Laundering Act was dangerous and against democracy.

"For speaking against the Modi government there are several raids and FIRs against Congress leaders", he said.

Congress is contemplating filing a review petition on the Centre's move on the amendment in the next few weeks.

Sonia Gandhi and Chhattisgarh CM Bhupesh Baghel at the 85th plenary session of the Congress party in Nava Raipur on Friday | PTI

The Congress doesn't hesitate from going along with the coalition government. "In fact, we are already in coalition in some states. Such an arrangement came into existence ahead of the polls, unlike the UPA which happened after the elections. We believe if any coalition is formed, then all parties of the coalition will have to become unanimous to raise their voice without any fear or inhibition or compromise against the intention and policies of PM Modi", said the party's Rajya Sabha chief whip.

On whether the Congress is willing to lead the alliance of opposition parties, party chief Mallikarjun Kharge could shed some light hint in his speech on Sunday.

To take the opposition parties along, the Congress believes there is a need to talk more and arrive at a consensus, as the party during its various sessions is working out ways to work resolutely as a part of a potent alliance against the Modi government.

"In Parliament, all opposition parties remained united, barring one or two for their own reasons. Though Opposition unity holds significance for the Lok Sabha polls, the party will focus more on state elections," said a Congress leader.

Russian officials 'rebuked' by some in G20 FM meet

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

RUSSIAN officials have alleged that they were rebuked during a session in Bengaluru in the just concluded G20 finance ministers' meet.

"We know who you are, where you live and where to find you and we won't forget you are personally responsible for the conflict in Ukraine." This was what was told to the Russian officials during one of the sessions during the meet, they alleged. Those who said it were from Germany and Canada, the officials claimed.

German officials have denied saying anything to this effect, while no response was received from the Canadian side.

"When the West talks of peace, they should be a little more responsible in the way they speak with others. This way of speaking, which sounds like a threat, in such a high-profile event isn't what we or anyone expected," according to Russian officials.

No such incidents were reported in the earlier events that India has been hosting under its G20 Presidency. Among forthcoming events, the G20 Foreign Ministers' meet – to take place in Delhi on March 1 and 2 – will be a high-profile one. Russia's foreign minister, Sergey Lavrov is also expected to attend this event and so is the US' Secretary of State Anthony Blinken.

It may be recalled that during the G20 Summit in Bali in November last year, Lavrov – who attended on behalf of President Vladimir Putin – had to leave a day early (before the conclusion of the Summit). Some reports suggested that this was after Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky, while virtually addressing the leaders, referred to them as 'G19' following which many leaders expressed reservations of taking a group photograph with him.

Russian officials are not having it easy since the outbreak of the Ukrainian conflict.

Meanwhile, earlier on Friday, Blinken in an interview to the Atlantic, said that India among other nations has the influence to directly engage with Russia.

Foreigners, overseas Indians & NRIs eligible for CUET UG 2023: UGC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

FOREIGN candidates, Non-Resident Indians (NRI), and Overseas Citizen of India (OCI) students can also apply for the Common University Entrance Test-Undergraduate (CUET-UG) 2023, the University Grants Commission (UGC) chairman Prof M Jagadesh Kumar said on Friday.

"Foreign candidates, NRI, OCI candidates can also apply for CUET (UG) – 2023 and they can also appear in any of the 24 cities outside India," Prof Kumar told this newspaper.

He said in the online application form, candidates need to select nationality in the dropdown either Indian, OCI, NRI or foreign categories.

However, all foreign, NRI, OCI candidates are advised to visit the website of the University, Institution, Organization.

The National Testing Agency has initiated the process of inviting online application forms for CUET-UG 2023 as per the February 9, public notice.

"The seats for foreign nationals in UG and PG programmes is 25 per cent supernumerary seats. For PhD, each faculty member can take two additional students above the limit prescribed by UGC," he said.

Overseas centres include, Australia, USA, UAE, Russia, Canada, Singapore, South Africa, Vietnam, Nigeria, Hong Kong and Brazil

The UGC also has informed all the universities through "Guidelines for Admission and Supernumerary seats of International Students in Undergraduate and Postgraduate Programmes in Higher Educational Institutions in India" dated September 30, 2022 that Higher Educational Institutions may adopt a transparent admission process for admitting international students.

The University and other institutions may have different policies regarding admission for foreign candidates, NRI and OCI candidates.

"These candidates are required to check the policies regarding quota, category, relaxation, reservations, qualification, subject combinations, preferences of the respective University/ Institution/ Organization websites," said Kumar.

The second edition of the exam is being conducted for admission to undergraduate programmes in Central Universities under the Union Education Ministry, and participating universities, institutions, organisations, autonomous colleges under the ministry and UGC.

SC rejects PIL seeking direction on menstrual leave

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to entertain a PIL seeking a direction to all the states to frame rules for menstrual pain leave for female students and working women at their respective work places.

Observing that the issue falls under the policy domain of the government, a bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud said that a representation can be made to the Union Ministry of Women and Child Development for taking a decision.

Remarking that policies related to menstrual leave for all working women and female students across India falls within the policy domain, Supreme Court on Friday disposed a plea seeking the same.

The bench granted petitioner, advocate Shailendra Mani Tripathi the liberty to submit a representation to the Union Ministry of Women and Child Development.

Tripathi in his plea had stated that menstrual periods have been largely disregarded by the society, the government and other stakeholders, but some organizations and state governments have taken notice and that denial of menstrual pain leave or period leave for women in the remaining states was a violation of their right to equality under Article 14 of the Constitution. "Women during different parts or stages of maternity undergo a number of physical and mental hardships, be it undergoing menstrual period, pregnancy, miscarriage or any medical complication related to these stages of maternity," the plea stated.

Along with seeking menstrual leave, advocate Tripathi in his plea also sought for directing the state governments to frame rules for menstrual pain leaves to female students and working class women at their respective workplaces and compliance of section 14 of the Maternity Benefit Act 1961.

SC: No gag on media on reporting Adani case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE SC on Friday refused to accede to advocate ML Sharma's request of gagging the media from reporting on Adani-Hindenburg issue till it delivers a verdict on the remit of the probe panel to examine the changes required in regulatory framework in the wake of allegations of stock manipulation

"We are not going to issue any injunction ever against the media We will pronounce our order," CJI DY Chandrachud said. SC bench headed by CJI while reserving its order regarding the remit of the committee on February 6 had refused to accept centre's sealed cover suggestions. A bench also comprising Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala had said that it can't start with the presumption of a "regulatory failure".

Court had earlier also refused to take on record a report published by Forbes about the share of dealings of the Gautam Adani Group.

3.4mn lives saved by Covid vax programme: Report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA was able to save over 3.4 million lives by undertaking a nationwide Covid-19 vaccination campaign at an unprecedented scale, said a Stanford University working paper released on Friday.

The Covid vaccination campaign also yielded a positive economic impact by preventing a loss of USD 18.3 billion, the working paper by Stanford University and Institute for Competitiveness titled 'Healing the Economy: Estimating the Economic Impact on India's vaccination and related issues' said. The paper was released by Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya.

The paper discussed role of containment as a measure to prevent the spread and mentioned some examples like 'Bhilwara', 'Dharavi', and 'Kerala' "as reference point of successful containment strategy."

The paper elaborated on the three cornerstones of India's strategy- containment, relief package and vaccine administration – which it said were critical in saving lives and ensuring economic activity by containing the spread of Covid-19, sustaining livelihoods and developing immunity against the virus.

Covid: The Turning Point

3 CORNERSTONES OF INDIA'S STRATEGY: Containment, Relief Package and Vaccine Administration: The Stanford University working paper elaborated on the 3 pillars of India's strategy

- Early decision of lockdown by PM Narendra Modi a significant turning point, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya said
- Minister virtually addressed the 'The India Dialog' session on Economic Impact of Vaccination and Related Matters, hosted by the Stanford University

5-PRONGED STRATEGY OF GOVERNMENT – namely Test, Track, Treat, Vaccination, Adherence – proved key, said the minister

INDIA'S WAS WORLD'S BIGGEST VACCINATION DRIVE

Close to 98% of adult population received one shot of Covid vaccine

90% received two doses

2.2 billion dosages administered

"Containment brought about envisaged gains with a bottom-up approach contrary to the counterfactual top-down approach," it said. It said that containment worked as a double-edged sword since it not only ensured some economic activity but also reduced the burden on health infrastructure.

"The initial lockdown helped India 'flatten the curve' and buy essential time in revamping the health infrastructure. This was complemented with a localized containment strategy," it said. It stressed that containment was not just limited to restricting the spread of the virus, but to the whole set of measures required to strike a balance between lives and livelihoods.

Virtually addressing the 'The India Dialog' session on the Economic Impact of Vaccination and Related Matters , Mandaviya hailed the early decision of lockdown by Prime Minister Narendra Modi as a significant turning point.

He said it enabled the government to leverage community response in its five-pronged strategy namely Test, Track, Treat, Vaccination, Adherence for implementing Covid Appropriate Behaviour and delivering a rapid and robust response to combat Covid.

He said that the government focused on augmenting health infrastructure in terms of Covid-related beds, drugs, logistics i.e., N-95 masks, PPE kits and medical oxygen, simultaneously up-skilling human resources though Centres of Excellences and deploying digital solutions such as eSanjeevani Telemedicine service, Aarogya Setu, Covid-19 India Portal etc.

The event was organised by the Institute for Competitiveness and US-Asia Technology Management Center, Stanford University.

In rare port call, INS Sindhukesari submarine docks in Indonesia

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

AS part of its diplomatic and military outreach programmes in the ASEAN nations, India has docked its submarine – INS Sindhukesari for the first time in Indonesia from February 22 to 24. Indonesia is among those countries which has been engaged into naval dispute with the dragon in the South China Sea.

As per the Indian Navy, the submarine concluded a 3-day visit to Indonesia. "It's about strengthening maritime partnership between India and Indonesia towards a safer and secure Indo-Pacific."

It is pertinent to mention here that the Indian warships often visit Indonesia and other ASEAN countries. This is the first time that the submarine was deployed for long-range.

Under Xi Jingping's regime, the Chinese has been trying to expand its territory with making intrusion into its neighbouring countries. On land boundary, it has been attempting to ingress into Indian as well as Bhutanese territories.

INS Sindhukesari docked at the Jakarta port during its three-day visit | EXPRESS

The 3,000-tonne conventional diesel-electric submarine reached Jakarta after crossing the nearby Sunda Strait.

In 2018, Prime Minister Narendra Modi visited Jakarta, wherein he and Indonesian president Joko Widodo had agreed to strengthen cooperation in all areas by establishing a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership to take Indonesia and India's bilateral relationship into a new era.

With context to Indo-Pacific region, New Delhi has always been vouching for a free, open and rules-based region as it is important for the economic development of not only the region but also the wider global community.

In a major development, the Indian Navy had provided training to 21 personnel from Philippines to handle BrahMos missile systems at Nagpur. India had contracted to deliver three batteries of BrahMos missile system to Philippines at a cost of USD 375 million.

Shah reaches out to tribals in MP

Focuses on Vindhya region in poll yr, CM Chouhan announces sops for dominant Kol tribe

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

WITH the assembly polls in Madhya Pradesh being just around nine months away, the ruling BJP has started focusing on the Vindhya region – the saffron party's lone bright spot in the otherwise dismal 2018 assembly poll results for it.

Just nine days after he announced the construction of Vindhya Expressway to connect state capital Bhopal with Singrauli in Vindhya region, MP CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan made a slew of announcements for the Kol tribe, the largest tribal group in Vindhya region, in the presence of Union Home Minister Amit Shah in Satna district on Friday.

While maintaining that the government was determined to ensure the progress and pride of the Kol society, Chouhan said that the ancient Kol Garhi Fort of Kol rulers in Teonthar tehsil of Rewa district would be renovated at ₹3.5 crore.

He further announced a Rs 1000 monthly dietary grant for Kol tribe women along the lines of a similar monthly sum already being provided to women of three 'especially vulnerable' primitive tribes: Saharia, Bharia and Baiga.

The MP CM further said that the government will provide the guarantee of providing bank loans to the youths of Kol tribe engaged in their own business and will also give them interest subsidy.

While narrating the work done by the Narendra Modi-led government at the Centre and the Shivraj Singh Chouhan-led government in MP, Amit Shah said that the double-engine governments were determined to make every poor person in the state happy.

"PM Modi has done many important works for the development of scheduled castes and tribes. Before the Modi government assumed power in 2014, the Congress-led government spent ₹ 24,000 crore for the tribals, but the Modi government increased the budget to ₹90,000 crore," he said.

"Earlier there used to be only 167 Eklavya Vidyalayas, the Modi government has increased this number to 690. Similarly, earlier there was a provision of ₹ ,000 crore for SC-ST category students, which has been increased to ₹2,833 crore by the Modi government," he added. Shah praised Chouhan for implementing all 14 tribal specific announcements made at an event in Jabalpur in September 2021.

Shah also laid the foundation of 70 development projects worth ₹507 crore and inaugurated 18 projects worth ₹26 crore. Benefits were also distributed to the beneficiaries under various public welfare schemes. Shah, who started his day-long visit of Satna district of MP's Vindhya region by offering prayers at the famous Goddess Sharda Temple in Maihar, also inaugurated the Government Medical College in Satna later in the day.

- Vindhya region of MP comprises 30 assembly seats spread in 7 districts
- The seven districts include Satna, Rewa, Sidhi, Singrauli, Shahdol, Anuppur and Umaria districts
- The region was BJP's lone bright spot in the 2018 assembly elections, as the party had won 24 out of the 30 seats
- However, the party lost the 2021 bypoll in Raigaon-SC seat of Satna district and two of three mayoral polls (Rewa and Singrauli) in July 2022

Uddhav predicts mid-term polls in Maharashtra

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

WRESTLING with legal issues involving Shiv Sena's name and symbol following EC's ruling, former CM Uddhav Thackeray has predicted mid-term polls in Maharashtra which could be announced "anytime".

In rallies held for the Assembly by-elections in Kasaba Peth and Chinchwad in Pune, Uddhav said in case the SC disqualified 16 MLAs, including CM Eknath Shinde, there were chances of mid-term polls.

A SC bench is hearing a plea on the disqualification of the MLAs due to their anti-party activities. These MLAs belong to the Shinde-led Shiv Sena. NCP chief Sharad Pawar, however, said he did not know in what context Uddhav had made the statement. He said he could hardly see midterm polls coming.

Meanwhile, Uddhav announced the 'Shiv Garjana' mass contact programme across Maharashtra. It will start from February 25 to all of March. Party in-charges in various districts will take the party ideology to the people and inform people how they were cheated by the BJP and the Shinde faction.

Sources said that Thackeray has asked his party leaders to try to groom and identify the second-rung leadership wherever their sitting MLAs and Lok Sabha MPs left them to join the Shinde factions.

"Due to the sitting MLAs and LS MPs, the second-rung leadership was not allowed to grow. They have a big opportunity now to emerge as leaders. Uddhav has decided to infuse fresh blood in the organization," said a senior leader close to Uddhav.

The state shared about the government's farmer-friendly policies and programmes which got appreciation. An expert team led by agriculture production commissioner Kamal Preet Singh observed that over 1,30,000 varieties of rice were stored at the institute's rice germplasm collection.

7 killed, 30 trapped in wall collapse in Meerut

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AT least seven persons were killed and over 30 were trapped under the debris of an under-construction roof of a cold storage which collapsed in Daurala area of Meerut district on Friday. As per the local police sources, senior administrative and police officials including Meerut Divisional commissioner Selva Kumari J, IG Praveen Kumar, SSP Rohit Singh along with a team of the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) rushed to the spot to carry out rescue operations.

The police sources added that till the evening around 26 persons were taken out of rubble and efforts were on to trace others. Four persons were said to be critical.

The cold storage belonged to a former BSP MLA Chandra Veer Singh. As per sources, on Friday afternoon when around 40 labourers were working, the cylinder of the refrigerator blasted, leaking ammonia gas. Owing to the blast, the shuttering of the lintel came down leading the roof to collapse.

Modi hits back at kabar khudegi barb, says Cong has lost all hope

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday hit back at Congress over its Modi teri kabar khudegi (Modi, your grave will be dug) slogan, saying some who have lost hope of winning, are trying to dig his grave while people across the country are calling for lotuses to bloom.

"Those who have been rejected by the country, deemed unacceptable by people and find themselves immersed in hopelessness are now chanting Modi teri kabar khudegi. But, people in every nook and corner of India are saying Modi tera kamal khilega (Modi, your lotus will bloom)," the prime minister said.

Speaking at poll-bound Meghalaya, the PM said the people of India will give them a befitting reply to those who use such offensive language.

The Congress workers purportedly raised the controversial slogan after party leader Pawan Khera, was deplaned in Delhi from a Raipur-bound flight on Thursday.

"As people are blessing us in every part of the country, some are so frustrated that they feel things will not work out for them as long as Modi is alive. They have lost their sleep. How long will you dig my grave? Do some social work," Modi said in Nagaland, addressing his first rally of the day.

Punjab cops buy peace with radical Sikh preacher, free aide from prison

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE police on Friday made peace with radical Sikh preacher Amritpal Singh and released from their custody Lovepreet Singh alias Toofan, a close aide of Amritpal. Lovepreet walked out of Amritsar Central Jail after a court ordered his release following the Punjab Police's discharge application, a day after Amritpal's supporters stormed Ajnala police station demanding his release.

Lovepreet is an accused in a kidnapping case. "Since the accused is no more required by the investigating officer for judicial custody, Lovepreet Singh is discharged from custody," said Manpreet Kaur, Sub-Divisional Judicial Magistrate, Ajnala, in her order.

"I had no role in the kidnapping. I thank the community for their support. My jathedar is Amritpal Singh and he is the general of the Sikh community," said Lovepreet brimming with confidence.

Amritpal, who is often described as a Khalistan sympathizer and heads an organisation called 'Waris Punjab De', termed the release of his aide as a "victory of the Panth."

Amritpal Singh alleged that the police had used force against his supporters on Thursday without any provocation. "Yesterday's situation could have been avoided had the police listened to us. The results that arose were not created by me. The administration had sought time earlier. We gave them time until Wednesday," he said.

"Our aim for Khalistan should not be seen as evil. It should be seen from an intellectual point of view as to what could be its geopolitical benefits. It is an ideology and ideology never dies," said Amritpal. After being released from jail, Lovepreet along with Amritpal and others paid obeisance at Golden Temple.

Protestors used holy book as shield, says DGP

ENS @ Chandigarh

PUNJAB DGP Gaurav Yadav today said the demonstrators had used the holy Guru Granth Sahib as a shield and attacked police personnel in a cowardly manner, leaving six of them, including SP Jugraj Singh, injured. Jugraj is a former national hockey player.

He said action would be taken against protesters who attacked cops at Ajnala police station. Hours after Lovepreet Singh walked free from Amritsar jail, Yadav said, "Despite giving an assurance of a peaceful demonstration, the protesters attacked the police personnel with sharp weapons. The video footage of the incident is being analyzed. The protesters attacked the police in a cowardly manner under the garb of Guru Granth Sahib. The police acted with utmost restraint, they could have opened fire."

J'khand man-animal conflict: Track movement of wild tuskers real time

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

CONCERNED over regular incidents of man-animal conflict in Jharkhand, the State Forest Department is developing a mobile app on which it would be able to update the exact location of wild elephants on a regular basis.

According to forest officials, this will also help in identifying the locations where the tuskers stop for a comparatively longer period of time and the vegetation available there so that a similar environment could be developed at other locations to keep them away from densely populated areas.

Besides roping in forest guards to update the location of wild elephants, the help of local villagers could also be taken to gather information in this regard.

Presently, the information related to the movement of wild elephants is made available through SMS on the mobile phones and also updated on the website of the forest department.

"We have been thinking of developing an app to track wild elephants so that the exact pattern of the route followed by them every year could be identified easily. Through this app, it could also be determined that how many herd of wild elephants are on the move at a particular time in the state," said Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCF) (Wild Life) Shashikar Samanta.

As of now, there is no any mechanism in the state to determine the exact number of elephant herds as they keep on moving from one place to another, and many times, the same herd is reported multiple times by different divisions, he added.

Samanta said that one particular herd could also be identified and tracked easily by using this app. He, however, said that brainstorming is still on to make it more effective.

He added that presently, it is being developed from the management point of view so that data could be created for research purposes in the long run.

According to an estimate, there are nearly 600 wild elephants which keep on moving in different groups, he added.

Meanwhile, on the basis of the recommendations given by a five member committee, orders have been passed to catch hold of the lone wild tusker which has claimed as many as 16 lives in the last fortnight, by tranquilizing it.

Through this app, the pattern of the route followed by them can be identified easily. It could also be determined that how many herds of wild elephants are on the move at a particular time in the state

U'khand all set to host 3 G-20 meetings

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

UTTARAKHAND has been given the responsibility to host three events related to the G-20 Summit instead of two as scheduled earlier.

The first meeting will be held in Ramnagar from March 26 to 28. The G20 Chief Science Advisor Roundtable will be attended by 70 foreign and 30 Indian delegates. Preparations have already been made for this.

The third event will now be held in Ramnagar, besides two programs in Rishikesh. After getting the green signal from the Central government, Secretary (General Administration) V K Suman has written to Commissioner Kumaon and DMs of Nainital and Udham Singh Nagar asking them to speed up the preparations for the events.

Speaking to this correspondent, state Finance Minister Premchand Agarwal said, "The second meeting of the Working Group on Anti-Corruption will be held in Rishikesh from May 25 to 27. Here 200 delegates from 20 countries will brainstorm for three days on the challenges of preventing corruption and related issues. The third meeting is scheduled to be held from June 26 to 28. It will be a working group on infrastructure. This includes the challenges of infrastructure, new technologies, etc."

Uttarakhand was earlier assigned to host two meetings related to the G-20 Summit by the Central government. These meetings were scheduled to be held from May 25 to 27 and from June 26 to 28 in Narendra Nagar.

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami had requested the Centre to hand over the responsibility of one of the two meetings to Kumaon division.

"Taking cognizance of this, the Centre has decided to give Uttarakhand the responsibility of the third G-20 meeting," Suman told this newspaper.

Ajay K Sood, Principal Scientific Advisor to the Central government, has written a letter to Chief Secretary Dr. SS Sandhu in this regard, informing him about the third meeting titled G-20 CSAR (Chief Science Advisor Round Table) being assigned to Uttarakhand.

600 delegates from 62 nations at 2-day Guj show

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

MORE than 600 representatives from 62 nations will attend the two-day Y20 India Summit at the Maharaja Sayajirao University Vadodara in Gujarat as part of India's G20 presidency. The conference will be inaugurated on Saturday by Gujarat CM Bhupendra Patel.

The subject of the Y20 India Summit, being organised by the Union Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, is 'Climate Change and Disaster Risk Reduction: Making Sustainability a Way of Life'.

"In this conference, the 167 delegates from G20 nations, 8 international scholars, 12 national scholars, 25 international delegates, 25 national delegates, 25 representatives of Youth Ministry, 50 start-ups working on environment and 250 students studying different subjects will participate," a press release said.

Drones, ammunition in new $2-billion US package

Washington: The Pentagon announced a new package of long-term security assistance for Ukraine on Friday with a $2 billion commitment to send more rounds of ammunition and a variety of small, high-tech drones into the fight. The announcement comes just days after President Joe Biden made an unannounced visit to Kyiv and pledged America's continuing commitment to Ukraine.

Zelenskyy says he wants to engage Africa, LatAm

Kyiv: President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Friday Ukraine needed to deepen cooperation with countries in Africa and Latin America to counter Russia's influence. "Ukraine really needs to take steps forward to meet the countries of the Africa... We didn't work well for many years. I think it's a big mistake," Zelenskyy said, adding he would also like to organise a "summit between Latin American countries and Ukraine".

Poland, US in talks to produce ammunition

Warsaw: Polish President Andrzej Duda on Friday said that during US counterpart Joe Biden's visit to Warsaw they began talks on producing much-needed ammunition for Ukraine. In response to a journalist's question about military support for Ukraine, Duda said: "I can reveal that I spoke to President Biden about starting joint military production, of ammunition for example."

Japan to propose new sanctions against Russia

Tokyo: Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida said on Friday he plans to present to other Group of Seven countries a set of "new ideas" for sanctions against Russia over its war on Ukraine when he hosts an online G-7 summit later in the day "In order to absolutely not allow one-sided changes to the status quo, we must firmly carry out support for Ukraine and sanctions against Russia," he said

UN Security Council holds minute of silence

United Nations: The United Nations Security Council held a minute of silence Friday to mark the first anniversary of the Ukraine war, after Ukraine's Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba accused Russia of genocide against his country. The homage of silence came only after Russia's UN envoy Vasily Nebenzya insisted the council honor "all of those who perished," in the conflict.

Anti-money laundering grp FATF suspends Russia

Paris: Global anti-money laundering watchdog the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) said on Friday it has suspended Russia's membership over Moscow's invasion of Ukraine. "The Russian Federation's actions unacceptably run counter to the FATF core principles aiming to promote security, safety, and the integrity of the global financial system," the group said in a statement.

Expected to fall in days, Ukraine's resistance marks a painful year; Zelenskyy vows to defeat enemy in 2023, as the first Western tanks arrive | Ukrainians weep at memorials for tens of thousands killed as world marks first anniversary of Europe's largest conflict since the end of World War II

YEAR OF UKRAINIAN SURPRISES FOR RUSSIA

KYIV

UKRAINE'S leader pledged on Friday to push for victory in 2023 as he and other Ukrainians marked the somber anniversary of the Russian invasion that upended their lives and Europe's security.

It was Ukraine's "longest day," President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said, but the country's dogged resistance a year on has proven that "every tomorrow is worth fighting for."

On a day of commemorations, reflection and tears, the Ukrainian president's defiant tone captured the national mood of resilience in the face of Europe's biggest and deadliest war since World War II. Zelenskyy said Ukrainians proved themselves to be invincible during "a year of pain, sorrow, faith and unity."

"We have been standing for exactly one year," Zelenskyy said. February 24, 2022, he said, was "the longest day of our lives. The hardest day of our modern history. We woke up early and haven't fallen asleep since."

German-made Leopard tanks from Warsaw arrived in Ukraine as Polish Prime Minister Mateusz Morawiecki visited Kyiv to send a "clear and measurable signal of further support".

Poland will send more tanks soon, Morawiecki said, also offering to train Ukrainian pilots to fly F16 jets, as Western allies underlined their unwavering support.

Ukrainians wept at memorials for their tens of thousands of dead—a toll growing inexorably as fighting rages in eastern Ukraine in particular.

Air raid alarms didn't sound overnight in Kyiv, alleviating concerns that Russia might unleash another barrage of missiles to pile yet more sadness on Ukraine.

Still, the government recommended that schools move classes online, and office employees were asked to work from home. And even as they rode Kyiv's subway to work, bought coffee and got busy, Ukrainians were unavoidably haunted by thoughts of loss and memories of when missiles struck, troops rolled across Ukraine's borders and a refugee exodus began a year ago. Back then, there were fears the country might fall within weeks. Zelenskyy referred to those dark moments. "We fiercely fought for every day. And we endured the second day. And then, the third," he said. "And we still know: Every tomorrow is worth fighting for."

> We endured. We were not defeated. And we will do everything to gain victory this year
> Volodymyr Zelenskyy, Ukrainian president

Tributes to Ukraine's resilience took place in other countries. The Eiffel Tower in Paris was among monuments illuminated in Ukraine's colours—yellow and blue. In Russia, media and rights groups reported more police arrests of protesters who took to streets with antiwar slogans in various parts of the country.

In Ukraine, Zelenskyy was particularly busy—kicking off the day with a tweet that promised: "We know that 2023 will be the year of our victory!"

He followed that up with his video address in which he also pledged not to abandon Ukrainians living under Russian occupation. AFP

China calls for ceasefire, peace talks

BEIJING

CHINA called for a cease-fire and peace talks between Ukraine and Russia, in a vaguely worded proposal released on Friday that analysts said was unlikely to deliver results.

The plan released by China's Foreign Ministry mainly reiterated long-held positions. It calls for the "sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of all countries" to be respected, but does not say what will happen to the territory Russia has occupied since the invasion. It also calls for an end to "unilateral" sanctions on Russia, indirectly criticise the expansion of the NATO alliance.

Speaking after China issued the paper, but without referring to it, Zhanna Leshchynska, charge d'affaires at the Ukrainian embassy in Beijing, said her country doesn't want peace at any price. "We will not agree to anything that keeps Ukrainian territories occupied and puts our people at the aggressor's mercy," Leshchynska told a gathering at the EU mission.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said he was planning to meet China's Xi Jinping after Beijing called for urgent peace talks to end the war in Ukraine.

Responding positively to China's position paper on the conflict, Ukrainian leader Volodymyr Zelenskyy said, "China started talking about Ukraine and that's not bad". "It seems to me that there is respect for our territorial integrity, security issues," Zelenskyy added.

"We need to work with China on this point... Our task is to unite everyone in order to isolate one," he added. "I am planning to meet with Xi Jinping," he told reporters, without saying when or where.

The UN secretary-general's spokesman called the proposal an "important contribution," underlining Beijing's call to avoid the use of nuclear weapons. "I think the plan put forward by the Chinese government is an important contribution. I think the call on the need to avoid the use of nuclear weapons is particularly important," Antonio Guterres's spokesman said. AFP

British-Indian schoolboy's humanitarian mission

LONDON

A 10-year-old Indian-origin schoolboy and award-winning fundraiser has travelled to Poland with his parents to hand over books and other stationery products collected in the UK for Ukrainian children displaced by Russia's invasion.

Milan Paul Kumar

Milan Paul Kumar from Bolton in Greater Manchester, northern England, arrived in the Polish city of Krakow earlier this week. According to local reports, Kumar and his family visited the Meeting Point integration centre organised with the support of UNICEF and run by the Zustricz Foundation, among others.

"Most importantly, I have made lots of new friends who I will visit again," Kumar tweeted during his humanitarian mission. He handed over coloured pencils, markers and colouring books acquired in a collection organised in Bolton and also donated gifts to add to the resources of a neighbouring public library so that they could be used by Polish and Ukrainian children.

The schoolboy began his journey at the Ukrainian Centre in Bolton and while in Krakow was also invited to the Ukrainian Consulate by Wiaczeslaw Wojnarowskyj, the General Consulate of Ukraine.

His humanitarian mission this week has been backed by several organisations, including the Tesco Staff and National Literacy Trust. Kumar, who washed vehicles to raise funds and donated his pocket money to the Ukraine Schools Appeal last year, is a recipient of the Princess Diana Award 2022 for his fundraising efforts and is also the #iwill Ambassador for Social and Humanitarian Action.

The idea behind the initiative is to help children in their reading skills as Silver Readers while reading to older members of the communities, called Silver Listeners. PTI

US targets over 200 entities across Europe, Asia that helped Kremlin evade sanctions

WASHINGTON

THE United States on Friday announced sweeping sanctions aimed at increasing economic pain for Russia over its invasion of Ukraine and sharpening efforts to crack down on Moscow's ability to evade existing restrictions. The White House said the latest measures against Russia were rolled out "in coordination with G7 partners and allies," while Britain announced their sanctions in a statement as well, with the EU also expected to do so after working through last minute objections by Poland.

The G7 countries, which were holding a virtual summit on Friday to mark the one-year anniversary of Russia launching its invasion of Ukraine, will also announce a new body known as the Enforcement Coordination Mechanism to block attempts at circumventing existing sanctions.

The body will be chaired by the United States in its first year, the White House said. Washington's new sanctions, which target sectors including banks, mining and the defense industry, will hit "over 200 individuals and entities, including both Russian and third-country actors across Europe, Asia, and the Middle East that are supporting Russia's war effort," the White House said. AFP

AI to hire 900 pilots, 4.2K cabin crew

Airline also looking to step up hiring of more pilots and maintenance engineers

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

AIR INDIA is planning to hire over 4,200 cabin crew trainees and 900 pilots this calendar year as the Tata Group-owned airline is eying to expand aggressively in domestic as well as in international market.

Earlier this month, Air India had announced the purchase of 470 aircraft from Boeing and Airbus with an option to buy 370 more, to support its growth plans. The carrier had also announced plans to lease 36 aircraft, of which two B 777-200 LR have joined the fleet.

The fresh hiring announcement comes after the airline claims to have hired over 1,900 cabin crew between May 2022 and February 2023. Currently, Air India has 115 aircraft in its fleet. Sandeep Verma, head - in-flight services, said, "With a sizeable aircraft order that was announced earlier in the month, more flights on international and domestic networks, and re-alignment of domestic routes with AIX connect, cabin crew will play a decisive role in shaping the present and future of the Air India group."

Verma added that they are also looking to step up the hiring of more pilots and maintenance engineers.

Tata Group, at present, is realigning its aviation business under the Air India brand umbrella. It plans to have a single low-cost airline and a single full-service airline by the end of 2023. The former will be a merged entity between AirAsia India and Air India Express while the latter will be the merged entity between Air India and Vistara. The recent hiring started in aviation sector after years of lull. Owing to cut-throat competition and other external challenges, India witnessed closure of a few big airlines last decade.

In recent times, the grounding of Jet Airways in April 2019 left about 20,000 employees with no work. The arrival of covid-19 in early 2020 dealt a big blow to aviation employees as they faced deep salary cuts, leave without pay and lay-offs.

After posting losses for 3 qtrs, SpiceJet reports ₹107 cr profit in Q3FY23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AFTER reporting losses for three straight quarters, private airline SpiceJet on Friday reported a net profit of ₹107 crore (₹221 crore excluding forex adjustment) for the quarter ending December 31, 2022, as compared to a net profit of ₹23.28 Crore (₹20 crore excluding forex adjustment) in the same quarter last fiscal.

The airline said despite a big jump in passenger traffic, business continued to be impacted by high fuel prices and depreciating rupee. Total revenue for the reported quarter was ₹2,794 crore as against ₹2,679 crore in the same quarter of the previous year. For the same comparative period, operating expenses were ₹2,687 Crore as against ₹2,579 crore.

The stock jumped over 12% to settle at ₹39.70 apiece on the BSE on Friday.

Ajay Singh, Chairman and Managing Director, SpiceJet, said, "The profits have been driven by a strong performance in both our passenger and cargo businesses. There are renewed signs of recovery and some very positive developments and restructuring initiatives in the immediate offing that would significantly strengthen and deleverage our balance sheet."

Mitul Shah, head of research at Reliance Securities, said SpiceJet recorded a net PAT of ₹110 crore vs. their estimated loss of ₹300 crore. "A higher non-operating income boosted the airline's bottom line despite pressure on EBITDA margins."

NCLAT stays insolvency against Zee Entertainment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

IN a big relief for Zee Entertainment Enterprises Ltd (ZEEL), the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) on Friday stayed the insolvency proceedings initiated against it earlier this week.

The appellate tribunal issued notice to IndusInd Bank on plea by Zee CEO and Managing Director Punit Goenka said it will hear the case on March 29.

"We respect the decision taken by NCLAT and remain committed towards protecting the interest of all stakeholders. Our focus continues to be on the timely completion of the proposed merger (Culver Max Entertainment)," said Goenka in a statement.

On Wednesday, the Mumbai bench of the NCLT had admitted a plea filed by IndusInd Bank to initiate insolvency proceedings and had appointed Sanjeev Kumar Jalan as the interim resolution professional in the matter. The matter pertains to a default of ₹89 crore by Essel Group's multisystem operator arm Siti Networks claimed by IndusInd Bank, for which ZEEL was a guarantor.

The NCLAT order is a major reprieve for ZEEL, which is merging with rival Culver Max Entertainment, formerly known as Sony Pictures Networks India, creating India's biggest media empire.

The company has received necessary approvals from shareholders, creditors, bourses and CCI and a final go-ahead from NCLT is awaited.

During the proceedings, senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi representing ZEEL submitted that insolvency was initiated against the media firm for being a corporate guarantor for a loan provided to Siti Networks. Terming it a 'comedy of errors', Rohatgi told NCLAT that ZEEL was 'not a regular guarantor' of the loan under which a comfort amount was to be maintained in the Debt Service Reserve Account (DSRA) for payment of the interest.

According to him, ZEEL had not given a special guarantee for the debt. The guarantee was given only if Siti Networks doesn't maintain one tranche of interest comfortably.

WABTEC INVESTMENTS ON TRACK TO TAP RAIL, METRO DEMAND

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @ Bengaluru, Hosur

BULLISH about India's rapidly expanding railway and Metro networks, Wabtec Transit India -- an entity of railroad solutions major Wabtec Corporation -- is making significant investments to tap this potential.

Sharing his company's vision with TNIE, Wabtec Transit India Managing Director Ajay Mani said, "India is the fastest growing rail market in the world. Investments are being seen in several areas... including on the modernisation of rolling stocks, whether it is the Vande Bharat Express, new-generation locomotives or technologies. Investments are also being made on doubling of lines and more routes. In the last few years, railway production units such as ICF, CLW, and MCF have doubled their production capacity. As an organisation with over three decades in India, we are uniquely positioned to capture a significant market share."

In the Union Budget, Rs 2.4 lakh crore was allocated to the railways. As of December 2022, India has 822.038 km of operational Metro lines and 16 systems. A further 568.15 km of lines are under construction. Likewise, immense growth is expected from short-haul rail routes (under 1,500 km) and the government is keen on expeditiously expanding the Vande Bharat network.

Wabtec is beefing up its industrial infrastructure through sustained investment. "We are investing heavily in our Hosur and Rohtak footprints, to serve requirements for the next three years. All the investments are being made ahead of demand," Mani said.

Wabtec Transit India currently operates three facilities – a large state-of-the-art unit in Hosur (Tamil Nadu), and one each in Baddi (Himachal Pradesh) and Bahadurgarh (Haryana). In 2024, the company will move its Baddi and Bahadurgarh units and consolidate them into one sprawling facility at Rohtak in Haryana.

It has already invested Rs 75 crore in Hosur and plans to invest Rs 100 crore this year in Rohtak. "At Rohtak, we are constructing about 10,000 sq metres of footprint; this could be later expanded to about 22,000 sqm. Depending on our trajectory, we could invest another Rs 50 crore," Mani said, adding that the Hosur facility has a built-up area of 26,000 sqm over 52,000 sqm of land.

Mani said, "We have already invested significantly to produce (couplers, pantographs, and brakes) for Vande Bharat from Hosur."

Of Wabtec's over-$8 billion business worldwide, India is the fourth largest market, after the Americas, Europe and Brazil. The overall India business has clocked revenues of $500 million, with Transit India alone contributing $200 million. Eyeing growth of 20 per cent up to 2025, Wabtec Transit India looks to log revenues of Rs 2,500 crore.

India is the fastest growing rail market in the world. Investments are being seen in several areas... As an organisation with over three decades in India, we are uniquely positioned to capture a significant market share

Adani Power calls off MoU with Orient Cement

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

ADANI POWER MAHARASHTRA (APML), a wholly owned subsidiary of Adani Power, on Friday terminated a pact between APML and Orient Cement for utilisation of a parcel of land in Maharashtra.

The MoU (Memorandum of Understanding) on September 23, 2021, for allowing utilisation of a parcel of land on sub-lease basis, which has been taken on lease by APML from MIDC at its power plant at Tiroda, Maharashtra.

The MoU had a validity period of six months from the date of signing, with a maximum time limit of 365 days for the parties to the MoU for fulfilling their respective conditions.

"However, as the parties were unable to fulfill the said conditions after a considerable lapse of time beyond the validity period, it was mutually decided to terminate the MoU," said the company in an exchange filing.

Meanwhile, Sri Lanka's investment promotion body has approved two renewable energy projects of Adani Group to be set up in the north and eastern regions of the island nation at a total investment of $442 million.

As per the reports, the wind power plant in Mannar will operate at a capacity of 250 MW while the wind power plant in Pooneryn will operate at a capacity of 100 MW.

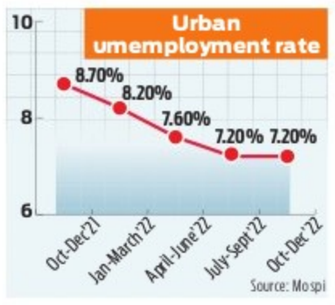
Urban unemployment at 7.2% in Q3; labour force participation up 48.2%

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE urban unemployment rate for those aged 15 years and above was stagnant in October-December 2022 at 7.2% as compared with the previous quarter, the periodic labour force survey (PLFS) by the National Statistical office (NSO) showed.

For the last four quarters, the unemployment rate in urban areas was on a steady decline. The urban unemployment rate in October-December quarter of 2021-22 was at 8.7%.

While the unemployment rate among male population declined marginally to 6.5% from 6.6% on a quarterly basis, it rose to 9.6% from 9.4% among women during the October-December quarter.



Meanwhile, the labour force participation rate has been steadily increasing and in the October-December period, it stood at 48.2% as compared with 47.9% in the previous quarter. A year ago, the labour force participation rate was 47.3%. Labour force participation rate is defined as the percentage of persons in the population who either are working or seeking or are available for work. One of the heartening developments is the steady growth in women's participation in the labour force from 20.2% in October-December 2021 to 22.3% in the same quarter in 2022.

Meanwhile, as per the Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MoSPI), during September 2017 to December 2022, 6.18 crore new people subscribed to the employee provident fund (EPF) scheme. It is to be noted that in the month of December, EPFO added 14.93 lakh net members in the month of December 2022.

Ericsson to lay off 8,500 employees globally

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

SWEDEN-BASED telecom equipment maker Ericsson is going to lay off 8,500 employees globally as part of its plan to cut costs.

According to the reports, chief executive Borje Ekholm wrote in the memo that the way headcount reductions will be managed will differ depending on local country practice.

"The way headcount reductions will be managed will differ depending on local country practice. Our aim is to manage the process in every country with fairness, respect, professionalism and in line with local labour legislation. Any impact to employees will be first communicated to them," said Ericsson India in a statement. While technology companies such as Microsoft, Meta and Google parent Alphabet have laid off thousands of employees citing economic conditions, Ericsson's move would be the largest layoff to hit the telecoms industry.

Ericsson is a 5G vendor to India's top two telecom operators Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel. Jio gave it a contract to roll out 5G Standalone (SA) in the country.

Ericsson employs more than 105,000 worldwide. The company announced it would cut about 1,400 jobs in Sweden on Monday. As per the reports, in December Ericsson said it would cut costs by 9 billion crowns ($880 million) by the end of 2023 as demand slows in some markets, including North America. "It is our obligation to take this cost out to remain competitive," Ekholm said in the memo.

MF industry unfazed by volatility in Adani stocks after Hindenburg report

SACHIN KUMAR @New Delhi

AT a time when many companies have withdrawn or delayed their IPO plans due to Adani-Hindenburg controversy, the mutual fund industry remains unfazed by the volatility in the share market.

Undeterred by the impact of meltdown in Adani firm stocks following the report of US-based short seller, asset management companies are staying firm on their plans to launch new fund offers (NFOs).

SBI Mutual Fund, the largest fund house in the country, has launched SBI Dividend Yield Fund on Monday. The NFO will close on March 6. Union Mutual is planning to launch 'an innovations and opportunities fund' in the next quarter. HDFC Mutual Fund has launched MNC Fund, which is still open for subscription and will close on March 3. Bank of India Mutual Fund launched its Multi Cap Fund on February 10.

These NFOs come at a time when many firms have withdrawn or delayed their fund raising plans via initial public offerings (IPO) citing volatility in stock market due to a fall in the shares of Adani Group firms after the release of a report by Hindenburg Research. Promoters of the companies fear the controversy has dented retail investors' confidence in the equity market.

MF holdings in Adani cos

Group cos	% MF holdings
Adani Ent	1.19
Adani Power	0
Adani Wilmer	0.02
Adani ports	4.43
Adani Transmission	0.13
Adani Total Gas	0.13
Adani Green Energy	0.12
ACC	8.22
Ambuja Cement	7.79
NDTV	5.01

* Data as of Dec 31, 2022

But the MF industry thinks otherwise. "Our stock markets have seen so many challenges in the past which looked daunting at that time like Harshad Mehta, Asian crisis, Ketan Parekh, 9-11, and others. Despite these challenges, people have made money from the market," G Pradeepkumar, CEO, Union Mutual Fund, told this newspaper. "If you stay away from the market, you will never be able to make money. We believe that at current levels nifty is at a small premium to its underlying fair value, not a significant premium, so we believe it is a good time to invest," he added. Another reason behind MFs' confidence is insignificant exposure of Asset Management Companies to the Adani Group firms.

TELECOM

Telcos asked to submit state wise report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) has directed telecom operators to submit state-wise and union territory-wise quality of service (QoS) data to check the call drops issue.

Now, the telecom service providers (TSPs) will have to submit data quarterly from the January-March period. The move comes after reports of increasing the numbers of call drops in the country after deployment of the 5G network by the telecom operators. Currently, telecom operators submit QoS data on the basis of licensed service areas (LSAs). "This will also help respective state/UT governments in facilitating service providers in improving QoS in the State /UT as and when required," TRAI said in a statement.

Recently, TRAI Chairman P D Vaghela held a meeting with TSPs and directed them to take urgent steps to improve their service. Vaghela said the regulatory body will start monitoring QoS at the state level and then district level. "Currently, we are getting reports from the LSA point of view. Thus, we are not able to know what is happening at the state level and district level. So, in our first phase we have decided that we will go for state level and district," said Vaghela.

Domestic market extends losing streak as rate hike fear spooks investors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market extended its losing streak for the sixth straight session on Friday amid fears of elevated interest rates, which pose a challenge to global growth.

The BSE Sensex fell 142 points, or 0.24%, to close at 59,464, while the Nifty50 declined 45%, or 0.26%, to settle at 17,466. During the week ending Friday, the 30-share barometer Sensex shed 1,784 points or 2.91% while broader Nifty50 lost 2.61% or 467 points. Beside interest rate fears, rising tension between Russia and Ukraine also spooked investors.

Among key Nifty50 stocks, Adani Enterprise Ltd shed nearly 20% during the week. The 10-listed entities of the embattled Adani Group have now lost ₹12 lakh crore in market capitalisation in one month since the release of Hindenburg's scathing report.

According to Joseph Thomas, Head of Research at Emkay Wealth Management, major factor that has been causing a bend in the river is the avalanche of economic data, mostly from the US, that carried hints that the economy might be stronger that one thinks, inviting an inference that there could be further policy tightening in store.

Thomas believes that these pressures are not going to go away soon, and could dominate discussions and markets for another quarter or so. "It looks like the factors responsible for the current weakness still has an upper hand," he noted.

Bopanna-Ebden win doubles title in Doha

The duo of Rohan Bopanna and Matthew Ebden clinched the men's doubles title at the Qatar Open in Doha on Friday. The pair, seeded three, beat the unseeded Constant Lestienne/ Botic van de Zandschulp 6-7 (5), 6-4, 10-6. The win continues the pair's recent upturb in fortunes after a shaky start to the year as they had made the final of the ATP 500 event in Rotterdam.

CAUGHT SHORT BUT HOPES HIGH

Harmanpreet & Co believe team has potential to rule women's international cricket soon

GOMESH S
Express @ Women's T20 World Cup
CAPE TOWN

WHEN the India team left for the 2023 T20 World Cup in South Africa, comparisons were made to the men's campaign in 2007. Both captains had No. 7 on the back of their uniforms. They did not have a head coach going into the tournament. Both teams had similar age profiles. And they were travelling to the same country just before the beginning of a franchise-based T20 league back home.

It did seem like the stars had aligned. This was the year; this seemingly was the tournament where the senior women's wait for an ICC trophy was going to end. And it did seem like it as they were up against Australia just as the men did. However, on Thursday night, that was not how things panned out. As India fell short by five runs in the end, there were tears, players were hardly able to put their thoughts into words.

Captain Harmanpreet Kaur, who was patiently answering every question — whether it was about her "casual approach" during the run-out when her bat got stuck, or about her health or the tight losses — found it difficult after a point, it was becoming difficult. She did not want to be sitting in front of a microphone, analysing what had happened. After 11-and-a-half minutes, she gave in, turned and signalled towards the moderator. She had just answered the penultimate question on what she would tell herself after such a heartbreak. The last few words of that answer summed it up; 'bas, acha cricket khela (we played good cricket), that is one thing I can tell'. Just as she walked out of the media centre, she broke down.

Shortly after, Jemimah Rodrigues and Shikha Pandey — the two players who had made a comeback to the side — were searching for words even as they were trying to compose themselves. Rodrigues had probably played the best innings of her international career so far. And there she was saying how proud she was of her teammates, reaffirming this team's potential to dominate the stage in the years to come.

Pandey, who finished with 2/32 and was the among last women standing with Deepti Sharma as the play came to an end, summed it up on what it feels like for an athlete after such a defeat. "To come here with all the preparation and the game gets that close, it is heartbreaking for even the spectators, the followers, I'm sure they will be sad. But to be there and not to be able to take the team through is a feeling that cannot be described," she said. Unlike the 2020 T20 World Cup final or even the Commonwealth Games final, it was not the nerves that got the Indian team down. Make no mistake, they dropped two catches, that too off Beth Mooney and Meg Lanning, and there are no excuses to be that poor on the field. But it is not as if had they caught them, they would have restricted Australia to a lower total. With the kind of batters who come after, they might just have conceded more.

How did they lose then? To an extent, it was luck — it is hard to explain both Rodrigues and Kaur's dismissals. It was not a shot played in panic or frustration as was the case in Birmingham. It was just the way that partnership flourished; three dot balls in a 41-ball stand against Australia in a semifinal after playing as many as 41 dots versus England told the story. The defending champions had two of their best spinners — Ashleigh Gardner and Jess Jonassen — to bowl in the death overs when the pressure was on. That Kaur was down with fever and might not have been at her best fitness came into account as well.

Ask Australia, they will say that they probably did not deserve to win. Gardner said as much after the match. It was India's match to lose, and they did because they have some of the players batting out of position, some who are settling into the new role and perhaps aren't at a stage where they could step up in a clutch situation like Thursday. That said, the bottom line will remain that Indian women are still searching for their first ICC senior title.

South Africa players rejoice after their historic win over England on Friday | AFP

South Africa break jinx, in WC final for 1st time

GOMESH S @ Cape Town

SHABNIM Ismail is on her knees. So is Marizanne Kapp. The entire South African squad is jumping all over them. They had just made history. For the first time in the history of cricket, South Africa have reached the final of an ICC World Cup. The Newlands Cricket Stadium is buzzing, and the celebrations from the crowd for the semifinal clash have engulfed the ground. They had just defeated England by six runs. From the moment Sune Luus opted to bat, they had not put a foot wrong. Laura Wolvaardt (68) and Tazmin Brits (53) provided the start they needed before Kapp smashed an unbeaten 13-ball 27 to take the hosts to 164/4.

Was it going to be enough? It did not look so when Sophia Dunkley and Danni Wyatt took on the bowling attack as England raced to 53/0 in five overs. In comes Ismail. Now, she had been a part of every heartbreak this team has gone through since her debut more than a decade ago. She is playing in a home World Cup for the very first time, and quite possibly for the last time, and has breathed fire through this tournament. She dismisses Dunkley to give the first breakthrough. Two balls later, she delivers a sharp bouncer which gets too high on Alice Capsey -- it still wasn't a wicket, until Brits dived full length at midwicket to pull off a one-handed stunner.

Could it be said that South Africa were in control? No. Natalie Sciver-Brunt, in the form of her life, is smashing everyone who comes her way — Nonkululeko Mlaba went for 30 runs in her three overs. But South Africa hung on.

Brief scores: South Africa 164/4 in 20 ovs (Brits 68; Wolvaardt 53) bt England 158/8 in 20 ovs (Khaka 4/29, Ismail 3.27)

In a week's time, not just Indians, but the vast majority of the global contingent will be in India for the Women's Premier League. And this squad of players will not come together for at least another three months. This should give the team management and the top brass of the BCCI ample time to reflect not just on the pool of players, but also the support staff, a head coach and more.

To become a champion side like Australia, there has to be a vision backed with stability. Meg Lanning and Shelly Nitchke's predecessor, Matthew Mott, built this team into what it is now.

The three global titles in seven titles is proof. Perhaps, there is a lesson to be learnt there. And the sooner India do it, the better. Because, as with the men, the WPL is not going to be the be-all and end-all solution to win world titles.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT: INDIA REFLECT ON NEAR MISS

GOMESH S @ Cape Town

THE wounds are still fresh. It is not even 24 hours since India came agonisingly close to a win against Australia in the semifinals. While tears were shed — captain Harmanpreet Kaur was inconsolable after embracing Anjum Chopra after the post-match press conference, the players knew what was at stake and what they have fallen short of. Those five runs will not be forgotten too easily. The tournament is over, but the memories were still fresh, prickly at times but something that will keep hurting for a while. At least three of the team-members boarded the flight back home, while others preferred to go wandering across the city. The least they could do to distract themselves from the defeat. Because of ticketing constraints not all could leave on Friday, but they are expected to leave the country over the next couple of days and join their respective WPL franchises next week.

THE MIGHT OF TABLE MOUNTAIN

ONE of the central figures of the cricket-watching experience right through the T20 World Cup at Cape Town is the majestic view of one side of the Table mountain from across the Newlands Cricket Stadium. Whether the manner in which the sunlight is scattered across it in the evening or the cloud cover at the tip of the peak — it is simply mesmerising, to say the least. The same word cannot be used to describe the experience of climbing to the top. The climb to the top of Platteklip Gorge peak is brutal, challenging, a test of endurance and will. However, once you get there, the bird's eye view of the city, which feels like a speck, the realization of the enormity of the peaks, feeling the mist passing — it is all worth it.

Going to support her from afar: Park & Sindhu part ways

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

DOUBLE Olympic medallist PV Sindhu has ended her association with coach Park Tae-sang, the latter confirmed on Friday.

The badminton maestro, who's ranked No 9 at present, has been rusty since her comeback from injury. The multiple World Championships medallist has suffered two back-to-back first-round defeats on tour — Malaysia Open and India Open.

She did well to win three matches at the recently-held Badminton Asia Mixed Team Championships in Dubai but a deeper look at the numbers are telling. Sindhu lost a game against World No 232 in India's match against Hong Kong before staging a comeback to win the contest in three games. In the next match, she suffered a crushing defeat against China's Gao Fang Jie, World No 73, a loss that proved to be damaging for India (they lost 3-2 in the semifinals to return with a bronze medal).

It was clear that things were not going according to plans. "She has made disappointing moves in all recent matches, and as a coach, I feel responsible. So she wanted a change and said she would find a new coach. I decided to respect and follow her decision," Park posted on Instagram on Friday. Park, a former player from South Korea, had joined the Indian national team to guide the singles players before turning focus on Sindhu.

Under his guidance, Sindhu had pocketed a bronze medal during the Tokyo Olympics before winning a gold medal in the 2022 Commonwealth Games. However, Park's current contract is until 2024 and is likely to continue with BAI's coaching programme in some capacity. "I'm sorry that I can't be with her until the next Olympics, but I'm going to support her from afar. I will remember every moment with her," Park added.

Sindhu will now be intent on finding Park's replacement soon with the Olympic qualification phase starting soon. The qualification period begins on May 1 and will conclude on April 28 next year. Come May, Sindhu will be determined to find solutions and get wins under her belt.

Satnam pips Olympian to clinch nationals gold

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

A little over a month ago, Indian Navy rower Satnam Singh started training for 2000m single sculls keeping the senior national championship in mind. There were quite a few reasons but the most compelling one was the lack of partners for his pet event — coxless fours wherein he had won silver in the 2019 nationals.

In the end, it turned out to be a good move as the 22-year-old from Punjab not only clinched his first gold in the nationals at the Army Rowing Node in Pune but also got the better of his more fancied rival, Olympian Arvind Singh. Interestingly, he was almost five seconds behind Arvind in the Inter-Services trials held a month ago finishing fourth. But Satnam clocked 7 minutes and 11.9 seconds in the nationals to finish on top of the podium. Arvind from Services (7:13.8) and Karamjit from Army (7:15.4) finished second and third respectively. "I could not find partners to compete in coxless fours at the nationals. Then coach Ismail Baig and Rowing Federation of India president Rajlaxmi Singh Deo suggested the switch to single sculls," Satnam said.

He along with Indian Navy coach Abhinav Bhatnagar started preparations at the Upper Lake in Bhopal once the decision was made. Such was Bhatnagar's confidence in his ward, he promised the RFI president a podium finish even before the event started. "He is sincere and hardworking. I always knew he can win a medal no matter how late he got into sculling. After the inter-services trials, the task was to reduce his timing which was around 7 minutes and 21 seconds then. Today, he cut almost 10 seconds from it to walk away with the gold," coach Bhatnagar said.

Satnam used to play handball and even competed in the nationals before taking up rowing. It was Olympian Swaran Singh, who initiated him into the sport given his tall frame. "I also hail from Mansa in Punjab. In 2017, Swaran Singh came to our village, Fatta Maluka and suggested the change. Like him, I always wanted to represent the country in the Olympics and rowing seemed to be the perfect way to do that," Satnam said. He improved by leaps and bounds since then and was included in the national camp in 2018. He won a silver at the nationals the next year and was hired by the Indian Navy.

"This gold will help me in finding a way to the Asian Games camp," added Satnam.

Cummins out of 3rd Test; Smith to captain team

AFP @ Sydney

AUSTRALIAN captain Pat Cummins on Friday pulled out of the third Test against India after flying home mid-tour to spend time with his seriously ill mother. Former captain Steve Smith will temporarily replace Cummins as skipper, with Australia scrambling to save face following two heavy losses in a nightmare start to the tour.

The loss will deprive Australia of their leading pace bowler and is the latest blow to a side depleted by injuries. Cummins is currently ranked in third place on the International Cricket Council's Test bowling rankings.

"I have decided against returning to India at this time. I feel I am best being here with my family," Cummins said in a statement. "I appreciate the overwhelming support I have received from Cricket Australia and my teammates. Thanks for your understanding."

Cummins returned to Australia earlier this week citing a "serious family illness", but was initially expected to return to India in time for the third Test.

Green, Starc set to return

Head coach Andrew McDonald has confirmed that all-rounder Cameron Green and pace bowler Mitchell Starc are expected to return to the squad. Both have been recovering from serious finger injuries. The third Test in Indore starts on March 1.

Indian doubles pair continues happy run

AGENCIES @ Bengaluru

THE Indian duo of Anirudh Chandrasekhar and N Vijay Sundar Prashanth eliminated fourth-seeded Arjun Kadhe and Max Neuchrist 7-6 (1), 4-6, 10-2 to storm into the doubles final of the Bengaluru Open here on Friday.

Anirudh and Prashanth remained the only Indians in the fray with the exit of Sumit Nagal from the singles event on Thursday. The duo will play the final on Saturday.

In the singles quarter-finals, Hamad Medjedovic of Serbia toppled No 1 seed Chun-Hsin Tseng of Taipei.

Medjedovic employed his power-packed serve and ground shots to telling effect to carve a 6-1, 6-2 win over his fancied opponent.

Medjedovic will face Max Purcell in the semifinals on Saturday.

Purcell, the defending doubles champion in Wimbledon, outperformed Luca Nardi of Italy 6-2, 6-0.

Alcaraz enters Rio Open quarterfinals

AP @ Rio de Janeiro

DEFENDING champion Carlos Alcaraz was far from his best against veteran Fabio Fognini but managed to advance to the Rio Open quarterfinals on Thursday.

The top-seeded Alcaraz overcame the 35-year-old Italian 6-7 (5), 6-2, 6-4 in 2 hours, 47 minutes. The U.S. Open champion's next opponent will be Dusan Lajovic, who beat his Serbian compatriot Laslo Djere 6-2, 6-4.

The 19-year-old Alcaraz is playing his second tournament since he was sidelined for four months due to a right leg injury. The Spaniard won the Argentina Open title last Sunday having dropped only one set in the tournament. In Rio, though, Alcaraz has been far less dominant against both rivals he has faced — No. 556 Mateus Alves, who Alcaraz beat 6-4, 6-4, and No. 86 Fognini.

"It was a match of ups and downs," Alcaraz said of his win over Fognini. "In this kind of match against players like him you cannot miss the opportunities."

Alcaraz took a 3-0 lead over Fognini in the first set, but a run of unforced errors allowed the Italian to fight back and win in the tiebreaker.

In the third set, Alcaraz once again had a 3-0 advantage but saw the Italian recover and stage a comeback, but the teenager's energy and strong forehands prevailed.

"I struggled with my serve a little bit. I was up with a lot of control of the match. But a lot of breaks of serve in a row," Alcaraz said. "I was going to have my chances to improve the game on my serve and I think I did." Earlier, Bernabe Zapata Miralles eliminated fourth-seeded Francisco Cerundolo 6-1, 4-6, 6-1. His quarterfinal will be against fellow Spaniard Albert Ramos-Vinolas, who beat Daniel Elahi Galan 6-2, 6-4. Sebastian Baez will take on Nicolas Jarry in the next round. Baez beat Juan Pablo Varillas 7-5, 7-6 (6), while Jarry beat Pedro Martinez 6-2, 6-2.

The fourth quarterfinal will be between Cameron Norrie and Hugo Dellien. The second-seeded Norrie could meet Alcaraz in the final as he did at last Sunday's Argentina Open, where Alcaraz claimed the tie in straight sets.

United edge Barcelona, advance to Round of 16

AFP @ Paris

MANCHESTER United edged out Barcelona to reach the Europa League last 16 on Thursday where they were joined by fellow heavyweights Juventus and Roma. After the first leg of their play-off ended 2-2 in Spain, United got the better of Barcelona at Old Trafford to progress 4-3 on aggregate with Antony securing the winner.

Robert Lewandowski's early penalty had given Barca the perfect start but La Liga leaders were again undone with the step up to the European stage as Fred levelled early in the second period.

Antony then delivered his biggest moment since arriving in Manchester from Ajax.

United are riding the crest of a wave in Erik ten Hag's first season in charge as the Red Devils remain in the hunt for trophies on four fronts.

United could end a six-year wait for silverware when they face Newcastle in the League Cup final on Sunday. But they left nothing in reserve to secure their biggest European scalp since dumping PSG out of the Champions League last 16 in 2019.

Former United star Angel di Maria scored a hat-trick as Juventus reached the next stage with a 3-0 second leg win over Nantes. Juve progressed 4-1 on aggregate.

SUIT UP IN STYLE

Linen fabric, embroidery on blazers, Indian prints... Pantsuits are making a comeback in many ways

MONIKA MONALISA

DITCHING an embellished lehenga for her sangeet evening, newly-wed Athiya Shetty went for a chic ivory-hued chikankari pantsuit by designer Anjul Bhandari, which featured baby pearls and sequin. Needless to say, she looked like a breath of fresh air. Not just Shetty, many in the city are hooked to pantsuits in linen fabric, embroidery on the blazers, or Indian prints like Ikkat.

Fashion designer Kaajal Shah is a huge fan of Indian prints like ajrak, brocade and bandhini which is quite evident from her collection too, where she has used those prints to make pantsuits. "I am from Kutch and grew up on these fabrics. So I have tried to give a modern twist to these Indian fabrics. You can wear it for any kind of evening event or even a cocktail party," says Shah, who runs her label Eiza by Kaaj.

Being a designer, she is aware of the fact that customers also look for reusability. "These things can be worn separately too. You can wear the brocade pants with a basic t-shirt and you will be good for any office event. For example, I had teamed a brocade jacket with a skirt for an event in Paris and people were so intrigued by designs being used this way and loved the whole fusion," recalls Shah.

Fashion designer Shloka Sudhakar adds that pantsuits are so versatile that they can be worn at any time of day. "If you have festive wear, you can go with a fabric like brocade or a completely embroidered pantsuit. Right now bling pants with blazers teamed with bling bralettes are also in for parties," says Sudhakar.

With summer here, do blazers work? Sudhakar says, "For summer, there are a lot of different options in terms of cuts. For example, a blazer with off-shoulders or cold shoulders can be sported. Most international high-end luxury brands are coming up with that. Celebrities like Kiara Advani have worn blazers with multiple cuts."

According to fashion content creator Arpita Yadav, the fun way to use pantsuits for summer is to include bold colours. "You can go for bold neon-coloured pantsuits to add that pop of colour. Or team up the blazer with a sports bra and shorts. That gives a cool breezy look too," says Yadav.

Apart from that, you can opt for a pantsuit in linen as well. Rupanshi Agarwal, founder of Qua Clothing, says during summer, more than the design, it's the fabric that plays an important role. "Summer silhouettes should not be stiff and restrict movement. Blazer colours can be lightweight and in vibrant pastels in this season," says Agarwal.

The fourth edition of Bangalore International Centre's Hub'ba features a dedicated children's corner, policy discussions on a variety of topics, short films in addition to music and dance

DESE GOWDA

Hub of activity

THE annual Bangalore International Centre (BIC) Hub'ba is kicking-off today and features a variety of events for Bengalureans to participate in: lectures, conversations, panel discussions, traditional dance, music programmes and a dedicated corner for children. For the first time, the fourth edition of the festival also features a section for short films about the city produced by citizens from different backgrounds.

"This year, we are hoping to create a carnival-esque vibe. It's called a 'hubba' for obvious reasons. The idea is to emulate a good-old fun fair. But it is mainly characterised by the sheer variety of events. Everything that people will be interested to know about or participate in, but may not know where to look for," says Lekha Naidu, thespian and programming manager at BIC.

It was the success of the original event in 2019 that prompted its return as an annual event ever since. "The whole point of the fest was to create a packed-up version of all different sorts of events that we do throughout the year," Naidu explains. This year, the festival also features a section titled 'B-LORE' that is dedicated to stories about Bengaluru from a variety of perspectives told through the short films. "We wanted to garner many perspectives and stories about the city. What Bengaluru means to people and what they see in the city. We wanted a repository of information and stories connected to the city. And that led us to putting out an open call for films," she shares, adding that among the 60 entries that they received, 26 were picked up by the jury and will be premiered at the festival.

While BIC Hub'ba has continued to add events each year, this time the organisers have made a key change to help the audience have a better time at the festival. "We have spaced out the sessions to give the audience a bit more breathing time. In the earlier editions, we had back-to-back sessions, and people would complain about having too many options at the same time and not being able to catch all of them," Naidu concludes.

BHUJANGASANA VARIATION ELBOWS LEG

(COBRA POSE VARIATION ELBOWS LEG)

It is a beginner-level prone pose where the student first aligns to Bhujangasana Variation Elbows and raises one leg at a time. This pose helps the student to progress to Salabhasana Elbows, locust pose and deeper backbends.

STEPS

- Align in the prone position of Advasana (Reverse Corpse Pose), keeping the body relaxed prepares the mind for the flow.
- Place the palms close to your chest level.
- The arms and bent elbows should be aligned close to your body as this gives the strength to raise the body.
- With feet stretched behind and keeping the toes and heels together, align the legs and lower back as you breathe.
- Put force on the palms, inhale and stretch the face and place the chin on the floor. Exhale.
- Inhale, lift the chest, shoulders, and upper abdomen and take the body backward.
- Arms are close to the body with the elbows bent. Exhale. Engage the neck and head.
- Inhale and lift the right leg gently. Keep the left leg on the floor. Exhale and place the right leg on the floor. Maintain the upper body alignment throughout.
- Do the same by lifting the left leg.
- Repeat this flow as per your capacity keeping the breath awareness.
- Hold the lift on each side for 2-3 breaths or as per your capacity.
- Relax in Makarasana (Crocodile Pose).

LIMITATIONS

Never breathe from your mouth, always breathe normally with your nose.

Those who have undergone abdominal surgery or operation, pregnant women, having any hip or spinal issues avoid this.

If you feel weakness or dizziness after doing this asana, stop immediately.

BENEFITS

- Aids digestion, relieves gastric and flatulence issues.
- Relieves pain in the sacral and lumbar areas. Benefits people suffering from slipped disc.
- Keeps the bladder and prostate gland healthy.
- Strengthens the muscles of the stomach and back.
- Helpful in menopause and menstrual disorders.
- Helps in urological issues and in constipation.
- This asana can help in curing sciatica.
- Always practise it in the morning after clearing your bowel.
- If you do it some other time, make sure that there is a gap of 3-4 hours between your meal and practice.

FOOD-FOCUSED COCKTAILS

ALCOHOL and food are always a great combination, especially as alcohol will often make you want food anyway. But with this list, we're looking at alcohol and food from a very different direction. Specifically, we're focusing on alcohol cocktails that have been inspired by food in some way. I focused on recipes that were a bit unusual and ones that heavily relied on food flavours that aren't often present in drinks. I'll admit that some of the cocktails do look a little unappealing at first glance, but honestly, there are a tonne of flavours and combinations out there that taste so much better than they sound.

GRILLED PINEAPPLE & JALAPENO MARGARITA

INGREDIENTS

- Jalapeno-infused tequila
- Orange liqueur
- 1 1-inch-thick slice of grilled pineapple, chilled
- Lime juice
- Honey
- Fresh pineapple juice
- Grilled pineapple and lime wedges for garnish

For the jalapeno-infused tequila:

- 1 cup silver tequila
- 1 jalapeno, sliced into rings

MIXOLOGY
Vijay Purty
(The writer is head mixologist, Foxtrot)

METHOD

For the jalapeno infused tequila:

1. Slice the jalapeno into rings, and place in a clean, tight-lid jar.
2. Add the tequila, seal the jar, and store in a cool dark place for 12-24 hours, depending on how spicy you like it.
3. Once the tequila has steeped to your liking, strain it to remove the jalapeno. discard the jalapeno slices, and pour the tequila back into the jar. If the tequila has gotten spicier than you want it, add a splash more of plain tequila to the jar. Keep refrigerated for upto one year.

FOR THE COCKTAIL:

1. Cut away the husk of the pineapple, slice into 1-inch-thick rings, and remove the core.
2. Preheat your grill to medium-high (or let it get nice and hot for 20 minutes or so if using charcoal), and oil the grate lightly.
3. Grill pineapple slices for 4-5 minutes on each side, or until nicely caramelised. Transfer to a bowl and place in the fridge until completely cool.
4. Add the jalapeno-infused tequila, grilled and chilled pineapple, lime juice, honey, and pineapple juice to the blender. Blend until smooth, then strain through a fine mesh sieve to remove the pulp from the pineapple.
5. Pour mixture over crushed ice in a whisky glass, and garnish with extra grilled pineapple or lime wedges.

AN ENTERTAINING AND COMPELLING TALE ABOUT THE COST OF FAME AND STARDOM

SOUTH INDIAN HERO
Director: Naresh Kumar
Cast: Sarthak, Kaashima Rafi, Urvashi, Vijay Chendoor Ashwin Rao Pallaki, and Amith,

RATING 3.5/5

A SHARADHAA

FAME might bring happiness, prosperity, and personal growth. It opens doors to the world and increases visibility. However, when it comes to the world of cinema, and being a superstar, there definitely is a price to pay. Director Naresh Kumar's latest, South Indian Hero, reflects the trappings of being a star in today's world.

With both 1st Rank Raju and Raju Kannada Medium, Naresh clearly expressed his forte in making a message film that is also entertaining. With South Indian Hero, he captures the bittersweet moments of cinema, focusing particularly on south Indian films, the fan adoration, hero worship, and above all, how a star goes about handling popularity. While the film does tackle a serious theme, there is ample dose of entertainment.

Here is a Physics teacher living in the local town of Hampi, and he is famously called Logic Lakshman Rao (Sarthak). He leads a normal life, and falls in love with Manasi (Kaashima Rafi), a music teacher. Lakshman has a creative side too, and his stage performance catches the attention of a director (Vijay Chendoor), who was looking for a new actor.

Lakshman Rao, being a physics teacher, tries to find logic in every scene while shooting, and throws frequent questions to the team -- the dialogue writer, director, and producer. This causes him problems at times. However, the same film, goes on to become a hit and makes him a star. The real story begins when Lakshman adds 'Lucky' as a prefix to his name. How does an ordinary teacher's life change when he becomes a superstar? Director Naresh has tried to portray the harsh realities in the cinema industry when Lakshman Rao alias Lucky goes about dealing with fame, competition, fandom, unrealistic expectations, the need for personal space, and emotional stress. How he goes about finding a solution to his life, comes in with a deep message. It is well balanced with enough drama, comedy, and sentiment.

Through the film, a celebrity's private life, ego, temptations, political influences, and the impact of all of this on the family is well stated. The dialogues are the strength of the film, and they bring out the comedy, heroism, and even the crudeness at times. However, for a film that criticises the logic in certain commercial entertainers, fails to do the same in a couple of sequences. There are also certain scenes that overstay its welcome, and needed to be trimmed without hesitation.

It is clear that Sarthak was the right pick for the role. He is likable as a teacher, a star, and a lover. He stands out in the role, which marks his big transition from television to the silverscreen. With a challenging role right in his first film, he gets to explore many shades, don different get-ups, and he proves his versatility with not just the dialogues, but in action and sentiment too.

South Indian Hero is the perfect launchpad for Sarthak, and it would be interesting to see where he goes from here. Another strong performance comes from Kaashima Rafi, whose character arc offers something new to the audience. Urvashi as a co-star in Lakshman's cinematic sojourn is an amalgamation of today's heroines, and does a neat job. The fun quotient is taken care of by Amit and Ashwin Rao Palakki, who play Lakshman's friends, and Vijay Chendoor and Ashwin Kodange, who play the director and producer of the film within the film.

A film about hero worship, star wars, and fan frenzy moments, South Indian Hero brings out an intended message to both celebrities, and fans, and tells it an entertaining way too.

KITTY IS THE MAJOR DRIVING FACTOR TO WATCH GOWLI

GOWLI
Director: Soora
Cast: Srinagar Kitty, Paavana Gowda, Rangayana Raghu, Sharath Lohithashwa, and Yash Shetty

RATING 3/5

A SHARADHAA

SRINAGAR Kitty's making his comeback after 6 years in a lead role, in Gowli directed by debutant Soora, and naturally, the film raised a lot of expectations. The film delivers exactly what was hinted at with the promos: A family drama with a heavy dose of raw action.

Set in the rural town of Sirsi, amid the Gowli community, the film features Kitty as a man of kindness, who can turn into a beast when needed. The story begins on a slow note, introducing us to the village atmosphere and the man of the house, Gowli (Kitty), who makes his living by cattle farming. He is a caring father to his kid and a protective husband to his wife Girija (Pavana).

Girija, who has studied till 7th standard is only educated among the lot, and she imparts her bit of knowledge to the village kids. Bhoomakka, a girl from the neighbourhood who would attend the classes conducted by Girija goes missing, and that leads to conflict between the police and the Gowli family. Kalinga (Sharath Lohitaswa) on the pretext of interrogation about the girl, lusts on Girija, and she faces threats from him. The cattle, which are the means of livelihood for the family are robbed. Kalinga and a gang of dacoits loot the entire village, with the aid of the police. Gowli is forced to shed his gentle image and give it back to the evil ones. Does he win this battle or go through a sacrifice? tells the rest of the story.

Even though the first-time director claims to have based the film on a real-life incident, the plot runs on a familiar narrative about the forest dwellers, who face violence, social injustice, and suffering at the hands of people in positions.

The writer and director have packaged the entire story in the first half, which primarily runs on the Gowli family, and his bonding with his wife, and daughter. He also maintains a good relationship with his uncle, whom he fondly addresses as Kakka (Rangyana Raghu). The poignant drama within the household is initially rich with emotions. Somewhere, Soora loses track in an attempt to drive the plot further and take the commercial route. The second half turns out to be a bland revenge drama with Gowli wielding the axe and going on a killing spree. The slow-motion fights only make for a tedious watch.

With violence at its heart, Gowli has its own shortcomings, and Kitty makes up for it all. The actor despite a long break is in good form. He has the calibre to pull off the role, and his acting is what will linger in people's minds after the film. Paavana is the soul of Gowli and has a meaty role to play. She also delivers a good performance. Without a doubt, Rangyana Raghu has always justified his presence, Sharath Lohithashwa, as a ruthless police officer is impactful and reminded us of yesteryear villains. There is not much scope for the rest of the characters.

In Gowli, the whole lot of villains scream before uttering any dialogue. Similarly Yash Shetty the dacoit exhibits his cruelty by shouting strangely out of anger. This seems so unnecessary just like the slow motion in the film. Shashank Seshagiri's lovely music is supported by cinematographer Umesh's picturesque visuals. Summing up, Gowli is a rural family drama, filled with violence, revenge, and emotions. Kitty is the major driving factor to see Gowli, and if you like bloodshed, this can be your weekend watch.

Shivarajkumar to be chief guest of the Kabzaa audio launch

CE FEATURES

THE much-anticipated film Kabzaa has been getting the necessary hype, ahead of its release on March 17. The makers, who have launched two songs- the title track and Namaami Namaami song in Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu respectively, and R Chandru will now be officially launching the album at a grand event to be held at his hometown, Sidlaghatta on Feb 26.

The audio launch event will have Century Star Shivarajkumar as the guest, along with lead hero Upendra, and heroine, Shriya Saran, Duniya Vijay, and Dhananjay among others making their attendance. Telugu star, Nithiin, whose production house has bagged the distribution rights of Kabzaa in Telugu will be among the top distributors attending the event and will follow with Gurukiran musical nights.

The makers also plan to reveal the special song, featuring Upenda and Tanya Hope, and choreographed by Jaani Master. Post this, the team will be heading to Mumbai for a trailer launch on March 2, and a round of pre-release events is expected to be held in Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Chennai, and Mumbai.

The gangster period drama set in 1940-80, Kabzaa revolves around an underworld don, played by Upendra, and stars Sudeep in a pivotal role.

Kabzaa presented by MTB Nagaraj and made under R Chandru's Siddheshwara Enterprises banner, in association with Alankar Pandian, is all set to release in multiple languages. The film consists of an ensemble cast and includes Anoop Revanna, Pramod Shetty, Murali Sharma, Jagapathi Babu, Danish Akthar Saifi, Pradeep Rawat, Kabir Duhan Singh Jayaprakash, and Kota Srinivas Rao in prominent characters.

With music by Ravi Basrur, Kabzaa has cinematography and editing handled by AJ Shetty and Mahesh Reddy respectively. The stunt choreography is done by Ravi Varma, Vijay, and Vikram Mor.

Shah Rukh Khan to shoot for Salman Khan's Tiger 3 in April-end

CE FEATURES

AFTER Tiger made a roaring appearance in Pathaan, Shah Rukh Khan too will be seen making a cameo in Salman Khan's upcoming film Tiger 3. SRK will shoot for the film by April-end, informed a source.

"Watch out for Pathaan's entry in Tiger 3. As the super-spies start crossing over in each other's films, which are part of the blockbuster YRF Spy Universe, expect twists and surprises that deliver outstanding entertainment value to audiences in theatres," he said.

The source added: "Shah Rukh will shoot for Tiger 3 by April-end and the shoot is expected to be in Mumbai. Details of this shoot are being kept completely under wraps but expect fireworks when the two super spies meet again in Tiger 3."

"Salman told SRK in Pathaan that he was going on an important mission so Pathaan will meet Tiger during this mission."

Tiger 3 is directed by Maneesh Sharma. The film also stars Emraan Hashmi and Katrina Kaif. The film is a part of YRF's spy universe.

'Martin is one of the best commercial stories I have written,' says Arjun

ANUSHA SUNDAR

AFTER the recent successes of Kantara and the KGF franchise, it is indeed true that the Kannada film industry has earned a name for itself among the pan-Indian audience. In line with this recognition, and hope to uphill the trend, is the upcoming Dhruva Sarja-starrer Martin. The teaser for the action-thriller was unveiled at an event in Bengaluru on Thursday.

The film, which will follow the template of pan-Indian release in all the south Indian languages and Hindi, has a story written by the actor and Dhruva's uncle, Arjun Sarja. It is helmed by AP Arjun who directed Dhruva's debut film Addhuri.

Speaking at the event, Arjun, who was welcomed with his iconic song Thayin Manikodi from the Tamil film Jaihind, along with cheer from the crowd, credited filmmakers like Mani Ratnam, SS Rajamouli, Rishabh Shetty, and Prashanth Neel, for pioneering the pan-Indian movement. "Martin is perfect teamwork. This is Dhruva's fifth film and he wanted an out-and-out commercial project. It is hard to write a story for him and I conceived this story exclusively for him. Martin is one of best commercial stories I have written," Arjun said.

With the teaser portraying Dhruva in a rustic and macho avatar, the young actor admitted in his timid voice that he is still conscious of his uncle's presence.

At the teaser launch event of Martin

But quick to collect himself, he addressed the media, "My first three films were romance. With this, I want to try a different genre as an actor. I have not played Martin. My character is called Arjun. So, who is Martin? That is the story."

Filmmaker Arjun went on share the camaraderie he has beyond the actor-director relationship, with Dhruva. "Once I heard the story, we worked extensively on how to present this film pan-India. So far, all my films have felt like an exam conducted in Karnataka. With Martin being pan-Indian, I feel like it is a national-level exam."

Re-instilling this, stunt coordinator duo Ram and Laxman went one step ahead in their pan-Indian strategy with their multilingual speech. After paying respects to late actors Rajkumar and Puneeth Rajkumar, Laxman said, "We shot the climax for 45 days and the reason why the stunts have come out so good is because of the technical brilliance. When we first came to Chennai, the one person we looked up to was Arjun sir. We could see the same type of fire and style in Dhruva as well which showed a keen interest in performing those stunts once the action is called."

A still from the film

Martin features two female leads, Vaibhavi Shandilya and Anveshi Jain, who saw the teaser for the first time along with the crowd. "When I watched Pathaan, the feel of it seemed very unreachable. But when I saw the Martin teaser, I had no idea that I was also part of such a big film. This film will indeed be a benchmark across languages," said a confidant Anveshi. Echoing her, Vaibhavi also expressed her elatedness to be associated with the project. The actor further shared that she plays a brave and patriotic girl in the film.

On the technical side, crew members shared their contributions. Art director Mohan B Kere said that massive sets that could accommodate 4000-5000 prisoners, which is quite a rarity in production design, were built. Editor KM Prakash opined that the Kannada industry's newfound respect, which came with the success of Kantara and KGF films, will be further cemented with Martin.

The film, backed by Uday Mehta, will hit screens this year.
